Rogers Defers to Indiana Humorists in Case of Watson

(Special To The News)

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., May 11.—When Indiana votes that Jim Watson more competent man for president than Herb Hoover, there just ain't nothing you can say.

Mind you, Jim is a good fellow as far as politicians go, but I leave comment in the hands of George Ade, Kin Hubbard and Booth Tarkington and Jesse Andrews.

Old Purdue, it looks like you have failed.

Yours,

WILL.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Traffic Officer Tommy Jones, Mill and Washington streets, is conducting an educational campaign for motorists. Jones is using his police whistle to inform drivers when to proceed as the traffic signs change. Too many motorists start to cross the intersection on the yellow color, rather than waiting for the red signal.

New Castle got its first glimpse of aeroplanes flying in formation, when six planes went over the city last night about six thirty o'clock, headed for the airport on the Wilmington road. Hundreds of citizens went out to Jackson field to watch the planes land. Eight planes were lined up on the field after all of the planes were landed and in position. In landing the planes circled the field, and came down one at a time after the preceding plane was out of the way.

And talking of the crowd that went out to the airport, there was one of the greatest auto traffic jams in the vicinity of the field and a mile or so in each direction, for a time, that one could imagine. Parking space of every sort was utilized far in every direction from the field.

But, the arrival of so many planes at one time was a bonanza for the lads of the city. They surely did give that line-up the once over time and again. The planes were most all of the same type.

School boys in some of the public schools of the city are industriously engaged in gathering old papers from homes and hauling them to the schools. The papers are sold and the funds realized used for the school libraries, and other work of the schools.

While boys on bicycles have their place, it is hardly in a line of traffic such as that which developed between this city and the flying field on the Wilmington road last night. It was dangerous for the boys and made for much congestion of traffic.

North Mercer street curb lighting system was burning last night. The street is greatly improved by this modern lighting system. With the recent widening and the curb light system completed, North Mercer street is one of the most appealing streets in the city. In a few years this thoroughfare has changed from a street largely of residences to one of the principal business streets of the city.

Predictors predicted, optimists scoffed, but in this case, the prognostigators were right. They said that it would rain for the New Castle High school bands' trip to Harrisburg this morning it was raining.

On their trip, though, the boys will see many things, among which will be the oldest iron forge in Pennsylvania. It stands at the tip of Center county, almost in the Seven Mountains, and to the youths from a steel district, it should prove more than interesting. Then, from the top of Nittany mountain at Center Hall, they will see many miles of the most fertile ground of Pennsylvania incidentally the scene of Pennsylvania Dutch novels by Pattee and Singmaster. They will see the Devil's Elbow, Stone Valley, and the Mennonites. To them the trip will be worth while.

Since the first enterpreneur was reported on Highland avenue, he has gathered competition. Across the street, another store has mushroomed, manned by ever more infant Ponce, who, aside from their traffic in lemonade and candy, have added oth-

Hagen Again Wins British Open Tourney

Walter Hagen, American Golfer, Wins British Open Golf Tourney In Great Finish

FIFTH TRIUMPH FOR AMERICANS

(International News Service)

SANDWICH, May 11.—Walter Hagen, golfs greatest showman, put on one of his best acts today when he came from the rear with a typical Hagen rush to win the British open championship with a pair of 72's for an aggregate score of 292.

It was the fifth straight triumph of an American in this once-impregnable British feature and the third scored by the Haig himself and in person, yet the Anglican gallery had become so injured to the sight of an American winning that it gave Hagen an ovation, even the Prince of Wales joining the applause.

Redemption For Hagen.

The victory was Hagen's first in major championship in four years, unless the American P. G. A. championship be included and it also afforded this slick man the satisfaction of a complete redemption from that 18 up to 17 to play defeat he sustained by Archie Compston's hands upon his arrival in England.

Hagen wasn't ready for that test. But he was more than ready this week, his 292, while not quite in the same class with Bobby Jones' record of 285 at St. Andrews last year being one of the best scores ever made in the great fixture.

Steamboats with special grappling equipment were used to drag the lake and airplanes pressed into service.

An offer of $1,000 for the recovery of the body was withdrawn ten days ago, but an adequate reward will be given the finders, members of the family said.

Airport Officials Announce Lindbergh's Arrival After Night Of Anxiety

COMPLETES HOP FROM DETROIT

(International News Service)

Band Caravan Starts At Early Hour For Capital

Autos Carrying Senior High Band Leaves City At 6:20 A. M.

SHOULD ARRIVE AT HARRISBURG ABOUT 6

State Patrolman Heads Caravan; Route Via Butler, Kittanning, Etc.

With a State Highway patrolman as a pilot, and fifteen automobiles filled with enthusiastic band boys, the New Castle Senior High school band got away this morning at 6:20 o'clock for Harrisburg, where they will compete on Saturday for the state championship of class A high school bands.

Every car was loaded with boys and baggage and enthusiasm. It was the beginning of a wonderful trip for the youngsters and if their playing rivals their enthusiasm, New Castle will come home with the first prize.

In Caravan Formation

The cars will travel in caravan formation, with each car numbered and each one placarded. Each car in the procession is placarded on each side of the hood with a banner 18x34 inches in size bearing the lettering "High School Band, New Castle, Pa." In the back window of each car is a number these running from one to 15. This insures no reckless driving, means that if a car is forced to stop on account of engine or tire trouble there will be plenty of help, and guarantees to the parents of the boys the most careful trip across the mountains possible. In the first car back of the patrolman was George T. Weingartner, chairman of the "On to Harrisburg Committee". The cars

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, May 11. — The Pennsylvania delegation to the Republican National Convention will not choose a "favorite son" at their caucus tomorrow, but will go to Kansas City uninstructed, W. L. Mellon, chairman of the State Committee indicated here today.

It was reported that the Pennsylvania delegates would be instructed to vote for Andrew W. Mellon, Secretary of the Treasury, on the first few ballots, then switch to Herbert Hoover, but the state chairman discredited these reports.

Mellon also disposed of a report that he would be elected National Committeeman as successor to former U. S. Senator George W. Pepper. Senator David A. Reed, also was declared out of the race, thus lending more color to the reports an Eastern Pennsylvania man would be selected. Albert M. Greenfield, of Philadelphia, is reported to be leading the field of candidates in the Philadelphia area seeking the backing of Senator-elect William S. Vare's organization.

Delegates To Meet

The 79 convention delegates meet in caucus here at 3 p. m. tomorrow following a meeting of the state committee in the forenoon.

Mrs. Gertrude Stauffer of Lancaster, is considered the most likely successor to Mrs. Scranton.

Chairman Mellon will confer with Eastern Pennsylvania leaders today on the make-up of the state committee with indications today that he will be elected chairman and that other members of the committee will hold their posts with the possible exception of the state executive committee some time ago but continued his duties at the request of Mellon.

Real Estate Man Found Dead In Chair In Office Here

HEART TROUBLE CAUSE OF DEATH

Charles C. Rigby, aged 65 years, one of the best known real estate men of this city and prominent citizen, was found dead in his office, No. 12 East street, Thursday night at midnight.

Mr. Rigby had been complaining of not feeling well for the last few days. His condition, however, seemed to be better yesterday as he was able to attend to his business. When found he was sitting in his chair, supposedly to have been telephoning as the receiver had dropped from his hand.

The police were notified and the pulmotor was used but to no effect. It is believed that he had been dead for some time when his body was discovered. Coroner J. P. Caldwell was called and investigated the case. Heart trouble is thought to have been the cause of death.

Mr. Rigby was born in New Castle October 31, 1862, a son of Eli and Nancy Simmons Rigby, pioneer residents of Lawrence county. He had spent his entire life in this city. When a young man he was employed as a heater at the New Castle Rod mill. He later became interested in real estate and had been engaged in that line of work for many years.

He was a former councilman of this city and some years ago was alderman in the fifth ward.

Mr. Rigby was a member of the Reynoldstown School association, B. P. O. E., Fraternal Order of Eagles and Loyal Order of Moose.

Boost Aviation Progress And Plans At Gathering At Field Club

Jackson Field, airport of the Kegarise Air Transport Company, located on the Wilmington road, north of the city, was the scene of one of the most unusual occasions in the history of the city to date Thursday evening about seven o'clock.

With the gathering there of seven planes from other fields and cities, the local port was in reality inaugurated as a factor in the air transportation activities of the district from now on.

Eight Planes On Field

The landing of the planes, six from Pittsburgh and one from Sharon, as well as that of the Kegarise Air Transport company, which acted as escort to the Pittsburgh visitors, was witnessed by hundreds of people from this city and all parts of the county.

Previous to the arrival of the planes from Pittsburgh, hundreds of cars had been parked in the landing field under the supervision of city and state highway patrol officers.

While the planes were as yet small specks to the south of the airport, the throng of cars on the Wilmington highway became so dense, that congestion resulted which tied up traffic in both directions for almost an hour after the arrival of the planes.

The event demonstrated that many people of the district are interested

WASHINGTON, May 11 — Herbert Hoover's campaign for the Republican presidential nomination will not cost more than $250,000, the senate campaign fund investigating committee was informed today by Hoover's principal manager, ex-Congressman James W. Good.

They're off today in a shower of rain, a line of cars and a crowd of boys, a roar of motors a blast of horns and the usual clammer and boyish noise. Off to the meet for the high school bands, off to win if they possibly can, trained and ready to do their best, you can be sure of every man. Ride all day and sleep all night, and be ready when Saturday blossoms forth, boys from the east of this Keystone state, boys from the west and the south and the north. But the local laddies are on their road, despite the weather they're on their way, off to win for the old home town, the weather is fifty-eight today.

Next Week Is Air Mail Week

May 15 Marks Tenth Anniversary Of Beginning Of Air Mail

TWENTY-TWO AIR MAIL ROUTES NOW

Week of May 14-19 has been designated by Postmaster General Harry S. New as Air Mail Week in accordance with the Tenth Anniversary of the beginning of air mail service which first started on May 15, 1918.

The first regular air mail service was begun from New York to Washington on May 15, 1918 when planes and pilots from the war department was used. But the experiment was discontinued for the reason that the time gained on route was lost in getting the mail to and from the post offices to the fields.

But later on it was seen that it could be made practical to carry mail by air at great distances so on July 1, 1924 the first transcontinental air mail service was initiated with day and night flying. And since that time a net work of routes has come into existence until 63 of the most important commercial cities of the country are joined up by air mail.

There are now 22 air mail routes in operation and 5 others under contract and likely to be put in operation within a few weeks. Other routes connecting all the important commercial cities of the country are proposed and may be let before the end of the year.

Total mileage of 12,550 miles is now in operation and two others likely to be let this year will add another 1,350 miles. Air mail pilots now fly a total of 22,110 miles every day and carry an average of 5,700 pounds of mail every day, according to statements from the post office department.

Postmaster General New wishes to state that no special cancellations of air mail stamps will be made during Air Mail Week. The department realize the interest to stamp collectors of such events but find the extra expense and inconvenience to the department so much that they do not feel able to do it.

cials at the Ford airport, where he took off, at last revealed that the colonel was flying toward Mitchel Field, N. Y.

From the latter field inquiries were sent to a number of points between Detroit and New York concerning weather conditions. All reported the flying weather favorable but no word of Col. Lindbergh or his Ryan was received.

Until early this morning officials at Curtiss Field declined to make a report of Lindbergh's arrival. Finally, when notified that anxiety for the famous colonel's safety was growing throughout the country, they gave out the information of his arrival.

er soft drinks to their line. Competition is keen, and both report to be doing well.

Today the New Castle Motor club is open in its new room at The Castleton, with Bernard N. Hanlon, manager, in charge. To Mr. Hanlon, the occasion is filled with potent portent. To him, it means the opening of a new era in the development of motoring service in Lawrence county. And he is located in one of the best places to give service to tourists.

New Castle should be proud of the way in which it supports everything that it undertakes. Dilks, the bunioneer, who arrived home Thursday, reports that if it was not for the help that the citizens gave him, he would not have been able to continue in the race. To Dilks should go credit, and to New Castle should go credit. Both worked, and both have reason to be proud of their work.

When the planes came into Jackson Field Thursday evening, they landed with the smallest amount of difficulty. Jackson Field is a class A airport. It is another project in which New Castle should become interested.

While the rain of today is probably interfering to some extent with the pleasure of the High School band caravan enroute to Harrisburg, the rain was certainly needed, and will prove of great value to farm crop development.

Although there was a possibility that the Bremen fliers in their hop from Philadelphia to Cleveland, Ohio, yesterday might have come over New Castle, and there were some persons scanning the skies for a glimpse of the plane, it later developed that the route taken was away up in Mercer county, nearly the route of the mail planes, and no one here saw the plane.

While one plane droning overhead fails to attract much attention, six or seven in a bunch will attract attention of most any person, it was observed last night when the group of planes, flying in V formation, went over the city. Thousands of heads were upturned to witness the sight.

in aviation and that Jackson Field is an ideal landing field, owing to its elevation, location, the natural grade of the field, its nearness to the city and the conveniences that will be available.

Land With Ease

Shortly before seven o'clock, the cry arose in the crowd of people at the field, "there they come," the sharp eyes of a small boy discerning them first, as mere specks and in formation. The first of the group to swoop down gracefully on the field was the home plane, that of the Kegarise Air Transport company. One by one the five other planes of this first group landed and were swung into line at the Wilmington road end of the field. As the last of these planes was about to land, there appeared a seventh machine, which proved to be that of Lieutenant Robert E. Dake, president of the Pittsburgh Aero club.

Featuring the landing of the planes was the ease with which these "ships" made a landing, at the airport. Apparently the field was to the liking of all the pilots of the machines from the way they landed.

About Half Hour Trip

The trip from Rogers Field, Pittsburgh to this city was made in between thirty and forty minutes. Weather conditions were fine, and a smoky condition of the atmosphere at places was the only thing that was noticeable according to the aviators making the trip.

The Pittsburgh visitors were met at Ellwood City by the Kegarise machine, in which were Lieutenant Sherman, local pilot and Mr. and Mrs. Kegarise and escorted to the field.

First of the visiting planes to arrive at the field was that of Mr. Mason of Sharon, who arrived before six o'clock. He remained until after the Pittsburgh visitors had arrived, extended them an invitation to come to his field and then left for his home port.

The Pittsburgh visitors remained over night, stopping at The Castleton.

Banquet At Field Club

Following the arrival of the Pittsburgh visitors and the opportunity afforded them to change from flying togs to civilian attire, the aviators with a group of special guests including Mayor Gillespie, Fred L. Rentz, Attorney George W. Muse, Attorney Walter W. Braham, Captain M. L. Craig, Harry L. Gormley, and H. K. Bell of The News, adjourned to the New Castle Field Club where all were guests of Mr. Kegarise at a banquet. The ladies that arrived in the planes were the guests of Mrs. Kegarise at the Kegarise home.

The dinner was followed by a talkfest, which of course was along lines of aviation and what it means to New Castle to have an airport. In this part of the program, Attorney George W. Muse presided as toastmaster.

Voicing his appreciation of the importance of the occasion to New Castle and his appreciation of being able to be present at a gathering of aviators, Mr. Muse introduced as the first speaker of the occasion, Captain Thomas Voss, regular army officer, in charge of the aero activities of the aviation reserve officers connected with the 324th observation squadron, 99th division, with headquarters in Pittsburgh.

Urges City Aid.

Captain Voss congratulated New Castle on the progress made in laying out an airport, stating that it was ideally located, had an ideal ground formation and right now is adequate to care for commercial planes. He advocated the necessity of making certain improvements, which would make it a class A airport, which would make it available for army and mail purposes. He thought that the taxpayers of the city of New Castle should see to it that Kegarise is aided to the extent of from $60,000 to $100,000 to make it one of the finest airports in this section of the country. He urged that air travel expenditures were becoming just as important as paved streets and sewers.

Lieutenant Robert Dake, president of the Pittsburgh Aero club, was then called and said that the people of this section of the country were slow in taking to aviation because they were not airwise. He then told of the fact that there are 23,000 miles of scheduled airlines in use every day in this country. He also stated that there were more manufacturers of airplanes than automobiles at the present time. Production is small now, he said, but would soon reach the gigantic proportions of automobiles.

Mayor Speaks.

Mayor William H. Gillespie began his remarks by saying that he feared that if he were to ask city council for $50,000 for aviation purposes at this time, that he would need the protection of all the men present. He remarked on the growth of aviation and air travel. He thought it was the ideal mode of travel for long distances. He said that what he had heard convinced him of the necessity of an airport and that he would endeavor to do what he could for the advancement of the airport in this city.

Lieutenant Jack Morris was then called and told of being here at the New Castle fair in 1921 and taking people up for rides. He said that this city was known as one of the places where many people were interested. He urged that it was the wise community that established an airport before it was too late to attract the business that is to come in the next few years. He said that the price of airplanes was as yet too high but that this would be overcome as the airports increased and production of planes also increased. He was not in favor of subsidized air lines, he said.

Fred L. Rentz of The News expressed his appreciation at being present and to associate with a group of men who were above the average and of such a fine type of young manhood. He said that what he had seen during the evening had changed his ideas concerning aviation. Stating that while he knew how hard it was to raise money here for anything of such a beneficial character as an airport, he expressed the hope that it would be accomplished and promised his support in the matter.

Attorney Walter W. Braham then spoke and stated that one of the big problems of aviation was the law points that would arise, about the regulation of the same. He said that the advancement made in aviation was due to the young men who returned from the war and dreamed what could be done and had the energy to go ahead and make the dream come true. He said great credit was due Ralph R. Kegarise for going ahead here and thought he was deserving of encouragement.

Captain M. L. Craig was the concluding speaker and expressed his pleasure at being present, and spoke briefly.

In the group of six visiting planes from Pittsburgh were two army planes. The planes and those coming in each were as follows: No. 4722, Pilot Robert Fox, Mrs. Robert Fox and Chas. NATIONALISTS ASK LEAGUE OF NATIONS TO HALT JAPANESE

A Central News dispatch from Tien-Tsin said that the Japanese entered the walled city of Tsinan (the native quarter) at midnight after a furious assault in which artillery and machine guns were used.

The Japanese held their positions despite 10 desperate counter-attacks by the Chinese. The casualties were said to be heavy on both sides.

Plane Drops Message

A Japanese military plane flew over the native quarter and dropped a note demanding the surrender of the remnants of Gen. Feng's army, promising that the soldiers would not be punished. The demand was signed by Gen. Fukuda, commander of the Japanese forces. The Chinese refused to give themselves up.

Japanese artillery was then brought into play and the wall was heavily shelled. A gateway was blasted and Japanese infantry moved forward, to be met with withering fire from the Chinese defenders.

The Japanese drew off. It was impossible to use starvation and siege tactics on account of the continued sniping. After further bombardment the Japanese obtained a foothold in the inner walls and began a systematic clean-up of the Chinese defenders.

Hope for Peace

Former nationalist Foreign Minister Wang has arrived at Tsinan on behalf of Gen. Chiang Kai Shek, the commander of the nationalist armies, to "negotiate peace with the Japanese", according to a Tokio dispatch.

Marshal Chang Tso Lin, dictator of the Peking government and generalissimo of the northern armies in China, now admits that his plea to the nationalists for peace "was a mere gesture of resentment against Japanese intervention", said a Peking telegram. Marshal Chang was said to have no hope that his plea would be accepted by the southerners.

NEW CASTLE MOTOR CLUB NOW IN THE CASTLETON

creased, and during the next few weeks he plans a drive which will try to make every motorist in the county a member of the New Castle club.

How the New Castle club was organized was told this morning by Mr. Hanlon, who states that the American Automobile association was formed in 1902.

Club Formed

"In 1904", he continues, "the Automobile club of Lawrence county was formed by the late David Jameson. At its inception, the object of the organization was to get good roads, for at that time there were few cars in the county. When road programs were gotten under way, the Lawrence county club, in connection with the Pennsylvania Motor Federation, maintained a lobby at the state capitol, to work for the good of all motordom. Then came good roads, more machines, and the Three A's program which is to work for the good of all motorists."

Mr. Hanlon became secretary of New Castle Motor club in 1924. Prior to the time at which he accepted the position, an office was maintained only during the touring season. Finally it was decided that an office should be kept open at all times because of the increase in winter traffic over Lawrence county roads.

To Render Service

The New Castle Motor club, declares Mr. Hanlon, is not a money making organization. Its main object is to render service to motorists, whether or not they are members of the club. During his tenure, Mr. Hanlon says that a tourist or a local motorist was never turned away from the office without aid.

The club also offers emergency road service to the members. Any member of the organization whose car may be disabled on the road will get immediate response by calling any of the road service stations. If they are unable to repair the car in 30 minutes, the motorist will be towed to a garage free of charge.

Another important feature of the service which the club offers to the motorist is a free attorney. He is maintained to see that the members of the organization are not fined unjustly.

Officers of the organization are: Frank S. Hoyt, president; George T. Weingartner, vice-president; and Charles G. Martin, secretary. Mr. Hanlon is acting secretary and manager. The board of governors of the club are Alex Crawford Hoyt, H. G. Miller, Fred L. Rentz, George T. Weingartner, Charles G. Martin Frank S. Hoyt and J. P. Cope.

It was planned to anchor the balloon directly above the pole and let ladders. In addition to making scientific observations the explorers were to plant a wood cross in the ice that had presented to the expedition by Pope Pius XI.

This ceremony was to be accompanied by a religious service.

Elder went up alone with Pilot Shultz while McCracken and James went up together. "I was interested to know how the big letters which we put on the top of the court house would look from the air," said McCracken this morning. "We found that we could read them very distinctly at a height of 1200 feet, and I believe that they could be read from double that distance."

McCracken tried to have a little fun with James by calling his attention to the fact that the plane was flying over Greenwood cemetery, but James refused to be frightened. All three say that they now have no fear of an airplane trip and are willing to go riding at any time.

IT IS the custom among men to don straw hats on a certain day and discard them on a certain day, each year. But Glasses . . . .

They can't be worked that way. Each case is individual. Although on an average glasses are efficient for 12 to 18 months without a change, there are cases where the same lenses may be worn for as many as three years without harm . . . and then again, there are cases where changes are greatly NEEDED within six months after the previous fitting. The "Optometrist" is a dependable specialist, authorized by the State to prescribe and fit glasses for improving vision and to remedy eyesight defects (not diseases). Come in!

The safe way is to visit the Optometrist each 6 months for an examination. If your lenses are O. K. he will truthfully tell you so—and you're assured. If they OUGHT to be changed, you'll want to KNOW it.

LINDBERGH'S NEXT FLIGHT

COLONEL LINDBERGH has so won public confidence the world considers him capable of accomplishing almost anything in the realm of aviation. This attitude on the part of the public probably accounts for the many mythical expeditions his name is connected with. There are as many wild rumors about the famous flier's future flights as on the eve of presidential nominations.

Whether there is or is not any foundation for it, the report that Lindbergh and Ford will co-operate in blazing a trail for a future commercial air line from the United States to Europe by the arctic route is full of compelling interest. It is a program deserving of the skill of the world's greatest air pilot and the backing of the world's greatest industrial genius.

In such an expedition there would be little of the spectacular and less danger than in a transatlantic non-stop flight, but utilitarian possibilities from such a venture are tremendous. If the automobile wizard is contemplating this new experiment in intercontinental air transportation, he doubtlessly has in mind commercial service over the route if the test flight accomplished all that would be expected of it.

Flying from New York to London by way of Labrador, Greenland and Iceland is not the shortest route but it has the distinct advantage over the Lindbergh and Bremen routes of having land beneath it the greater part of the way making forced landings and short and safe hops possible.

AN INTERESTING EXPERIMENT

PEDESTRIANS throughout Pennsylvania would like to see their own communities adopt the new Boston plan of pro-pedestrian traffic control. If the plan works out to the satisfaction of Boston, it will only be a matter of time until it is imported by this state.

Boston's idea is to mark off safety crossings in congested districts, and give to the pedestrian the right-of-way over vehicles at those crossings. The up-raised hand of a pedestrian would be notice to the motorist that the former intended to take the right-of-way.

Some such a regulation is sorely needed in every community. There are intersections where only the swift of foot can cross a street in safety and without aggravating curb-stone waiting. Cars and trucks pass in endless streams without a thought for the man on foot who may be in just as great a hurry and have an appointment just as important. Even where there are traffic policemen or signals the pedestrian is denied an equal chance, for cars are ever turning to right and left through pedestrian lines.

If the scheme fails, it will be due to pedestrian selfishness. Give the walker the powers of a traffic policeman and a red light and he may impose upon the rider as much as the latter now imposes upon him. There are times when the pedestrian should stop for the driver and there are just as many times when the driver should give the man on foot the right-of-way.

REDEEMING WASTE AREAS

BY THE purchase of an additional 112,740 acres of land for the state forest reserves a fourth of the estimated barren and unproductive acreage of Pennsylvania has been turned to this good use. The total preserve is now 1,256,790 acres, or second in the holdings of the various states.

By 1920 Pennsylvania had acquired a million acres of land for this purpose at an average cost of $2.28 an acre. This was put under careful protection to prevent fires, to prevent erosion and floods and to make a valuable source of timber. So far, however, the revenue from campers on state reservations has exceeded that from saw-mills.

The new acreage averaged a cost of $2.90 an acre, or very little more than the costs of a decade ago. Another 60,000 acres will be purchased this year from the money authorized by the legislature. But there will remain more than three million acres of barren land in the state, land which continues to be a liability because it has been cut over, burned over and left practically unprotected.

Compared with other states, though, Pennsylvania has a very favorable showing in its control of wilderness territory. But the policy of the commonwealth in taking up waste lands for reforestation suggests the possibility of supplementary action by county or other local authority in securing title to neglected areas, particularly along the water-courses, or in sections which might be made available for public use. In numerous instances a small expenditure may prove a sound investment in its anticipation of future needs.

Hard work beats finding a four-leaf clover as a sign of good luck.

Another thing strengthening some folks' belief in a merciful providence is a woman driving a car.

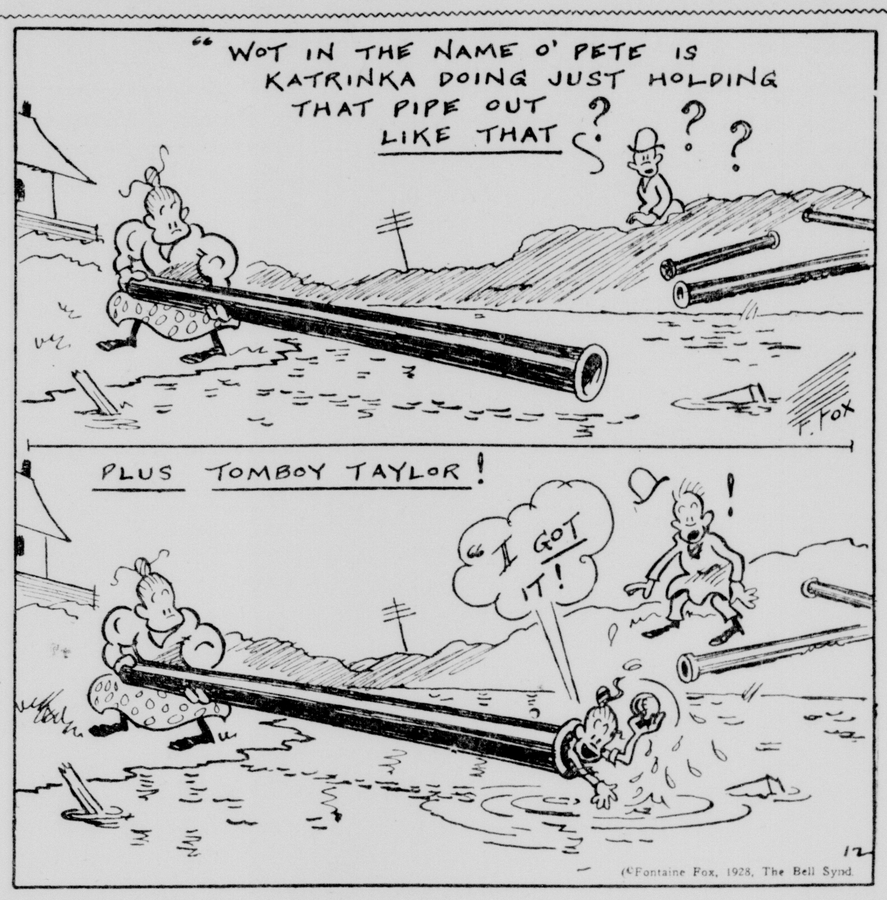

The world could be twice as bad as it is. Suppose the seasons were six months instead of three?

Still, a lot of contentment in the world is merely the frame of mind of the man who says, "What's the use?"

If the average husband gave his wife as much attention as he does a worn-out flivver, she would suspect him of trying to cover up something.

Just to demonstrate how busy we have been with stern reality, it can be cited that a year has passed and failed to bring out a single new breakfast food.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 7:06. Sun rises tomorrow 4:46.

Henry Ford says he will produce an airplane that will rival man's imagination. As far as we are concerned we are buffaloed already along that line.

Heredity is what makes a three weeks weeks old baby kick like Sam Hill to get out of long dresses and wear short dresses like its mother.

A gentleman who owns a chain of grocery stores is about to get married again and he has given each of his children a million dollars and there are six of them. He is also going to give the new wife 40 million dollars. As a peacemaker in the family that gentleman surely is a wizard, but it seems to us he is paying an awful price for a wife.

The New Castle Motor club is now located at The Castleton. Bernard Hanlon is the efficient manager of the office and he hands out real service to all members. A motor club is not only a big asset to a city but it is a wonderful thing to those who belong to it. One gets more for his money in the local motor club than in anything he can invest in. Motor clubs have been responsible for a lot of good roads being built and any motorist who does not appreciate good roads isn't much of a citizen anyhow.

A man told us yesterday that he had an awful pain from his wrist up to his shoulder in his right arm and he could not raise his hand to near a level of his shoulder. He will be in a terrible fix if some one offers him a drink as he cannot crook his elbow enough to get a drink into his face.

An Arkansas man, 87, has never seen a movie, a motor car, a railway plane or a trolley, which makes us wonder what's the use of a man so incurious as that living at all.

Eight minority stockholders in the Ford Motor Co., by the action of a court in Cincinnati, will not have to pay the government $44,000,000 on income and profit taxes. Well, that makes it far easier for them to start the vacation season which is just now at hand.

Broadway's theatrical morals would soon be above suspicion if producers spent as much time and thought in cleaning up the stages as they do in cleaning up in the box offices.

A lady in Pittsburgh moved into a new home and she spent some days cleaning it up, as ladies always do. After getting all the house to her liking she started for the cellar to give it the razz. After she turned the light on the first thing she saw was the skeleton of a human. Her screams brought the police, firemen and neighbors for several blocks around. The bones belonged to a doctor who had carelessly left them in the cellar when he moved out. No doubt the desire to clean the cellar left her right there.

A prominent New York actress was engaged to a baron. A few days before the wedding was to take place the newspapers gave a history of the baron's life which he had kept from his intended wife. When he called to get married she told him to vamoose, get out, make himself scarce and perhaps other things. This shows the power of the press and the humiliation it can inflict in careless hands, or also which it can prevent.

There are times when a man tries to get even he does not get satisfaction. Men have even been known to get the worst of it when trying to get even with some other chap.

Minding your own business is a big job in most cases.

We are still of the opinion after hearing so many nations talking about no more wars, that there will really be no more wars if those who make wars will have to do the fighting. We are quite sure the world will be quite safe from wars if statesmen who start the rows will be made to put on the uniforms first.

We read that in ancient times the Chichimec Indians of the Valley of Mexico were so healthy that when one of them was sick for more than five days he was killed. That tribe must have had a strong undertakers' union.

A new newspaper at Chester, Pa., called The Evening News was started and published eleven days and then went flooey because it cost too much to run it. Eleven days isn't very long.

The members of the New Castle fire department are going to hold a dance in the new engine house on South Jefferson street on June 28. They will sell tickets for the event and the money thus raised will be used to help furnish the new headquarters. New Castle has the best fire department in this vicinity and this little venture should be heartily supported by all citizens. Everybody should at least buy a ticket to help the firemen with their project.

JOE BULGER IN POLITICS.

Coaltown, Pa., May 9, 1928.

Fred Rentz,
News Co.

As regards your western onion telegram dated May 4 which was delivered to me by parcel post May 7 where you say will I expose for a long suffering & patient public my views as regards your recent inability to run yourself for public office with profit & success I would have wrote sooner except this is my busy season on account with the late spring & all some herbs which I been experimenting with has just come to bloom & and some scientific recipies has had to be done at the proper moment. Besides the high winds caused by the overproduction by the automatic gas producers in the US senate recently has blew a lot of flue dust down my garage chimney & spoiled a lot of samples in the basement which made me a sight of extra work replacing the same.

Anyhow I this PM met the pastor of the first church & I says to him what do you think is the reason Fred got himself licked by the vox populous in the recent unpleasantness & he said whom the gods love they chastise, & I says I don't get you & he says well I didnt think you would Joe. Anyhow I says it looks to as if they don't love you much at that rate.

Last night Geo Muse come out to my place to discuss some evidence found on one of his innocent clients & on account George having some extensive experience as regards not getting public offices I asked him as regards the same & and he says the way it looks to him the trouble was that all the democratic & other prohibition voters in the republican party was against you Fred.

Except this don't look to me to be all the trouble. I seen in some of the public presses of the city where you publish your affidavit of campaign expenses to the amount of 66 dollars & 13 cents. Jake tells me this dont include expenses of publishing your picture in his paper which was donated free & gratis. This figures 22 dollars & 4 1-3 cents per county & looks to me like good money thrown away on account there aint no more honest voters any more. They take your money & you cant depend on them staying put.

I one time run for some office & on account I wanted to check up on some voters which had been hired by me their ballots was marked with a private mark by the election judge which was a friend of mine & and in every case they voted for my opponents.

I find politics dont pay any more on account it aint like the old days. In them happy times you knew before the election started how it was going to end. The only question was how long you would have to hold out the heavy precincts to find out how many votes was needed. Also when you loaded up the grave yard vote etcettera & hauled them from one precinct to another they was given their ballots at the door properly marked & you didn't have to worry about how they were voting.

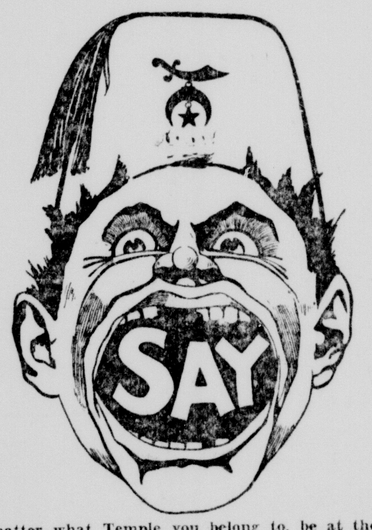

I was in hope that when the women got into politics things would improve & be got back into the good old way but when you look at Pittsburg where they got a woman on most every election board & about 80 boards is indicted for getting caught it begins to look like the women aint much smarter than the modern men politicians. It don't make any difference whether it is in New York or in Texas or Pittsburg they all get themselves caught.

It looks to me like the way to slip into some office is to stay out of the primaries & the night before election get yourself nominated by petition of some indiginent citizens. Fred my typewriter claims that indiginent is not spelled right but you leave it as it is. Its just what I mean.

Anyhow if you follow these politics you stand a better show on account you save some expenses & Besides you don't have to publish your picture in the public presses & believe me when anybody runs for office it is a big advantage if fewer people knows what he looks like. When they dont know what you look like they are apt to imagine a fine old honest looking man with a long white beard & a bunch of tracts under one arm but if you go to spreading your picture around over the township they give one look & say is that the big exponent of animal husbandry.

I would like to have wrote a bigger essay on the subject but I got to run on account I smell some experiments boiling over. So long.

Japan's Opportunity.
Hoover In Indiana.
The Tabulous Toad.
31 German Parties.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1928, by N. Y. American, Inc.)

China and Japan are at war, as much as a nation without a head, like China, can war with another.

China, murdering a few Japanese, gave Japan an opportunity to straighten out various matters, regardless of the League of Nations.

A war, big or little, can be useful, for it enables you to eliminate, with dignity, a decent regard for the opinions of mankind. "Can't you see I'm insulted?" asks the aggressive nation.

Poor harassed China may, in the end, be better off for the Japanese complication. It might arouse a sense of nationality in the Chinese, and end civil war.

In any case, Washington, please remember it is not our war. We did not start it.

Watson counted more votes than Hoover, in Indiana. That means nothing to Watson. The question is: What, if anything, does it mean to Hoover?

High finance, gleeful, or trying to be says "Hoover is eliminated. He gets big votes in cities, but farmers will not vote for him."

Poor comfort. Some farmers prefer other candidates and will not vote for Hoover at the primaries. But will those Republican farmers, when Hoover is nominated, refuse to vote for him, and vote for a Democrat? They will NOT, and politicians know it.

Gentlemen that give odds on election betting should remember that, in reality, the vote in Indiana was a remarkable victory for Hoover. He showed extraordinary strength against a hostile machine more powerful than Tammany Hall.

The New York Republican machine, not strong, unless Democrats, for their own reasons, give it a hand, will study the Indiana returns thoughtfully. They do not want Hoover, but they also do not want to be beaten.

In Hoover they have a fighter that wins, something they can't do usually. They cannot afford to disregard that fact.

A horned toad, known to newspaper readers as Rip Van Winkle, is supposed to have lived more than 30 years in a corner stone without air, water or food.

The toad has been seen by many, including the President. Some believe the yarn. The President has not committeed himself. When the toad was placed on the President's desk neither said a word.

Now the toad's owner heightens interest, saying that in his dark, airless cornerstone the toad sat next to a Bible, and that noble book enabled him to hold out. Many will believe that. It is a credulous human race.

In a few days Germany will elect a new Reichstag, and 31 different parties will fight for the seats. These include two Catholic, two Socialist, two Nationalist, three Communistic, and three anti-Semitic parties.

In America we have only two parties that count, and our people can hardly keep track of them. Not ten in a hundred could tell what either wants or plans.

Fortunately the country with little political excitement. It is quite, because it is doing well.

The widow and daughter of Caruso visited his grave in Naples and looked on his face, well preserved by the embalming process.

Where is the spirit that moulded the face, and where is the voice that delighted the world? Are they united in another world, or has the sum of Caruso consciousness gone back to a comic ocean of thought, as water goe back to the ocean of H2O.

Mr. Firestone, who makes tires and should know, says prices will drop 10 per cent. They may drop more, but don't wait. Spring, in the open air, is not a thing to be postponed.

Some day some makers of tires, well known will sell his product by mail order, giving his customers the benefit of the middleman's profit, now foolishly out of line. The tire maker will be the big tire maker.

Mussolini says everything possible is being done to encourage study of English in Italy's schools. The Italian ruler knows that it is important to understand the language of those that have the money and the English-speaking races have it.

Slowly, English, modified through the centuries, more than it has been modified since Chaucer's day, will be the universal language. It is the best because it is the most mixed, just as the most mixed races are the best.

The change, even outside of the semi-barbarous races, will take a long time, 10,000 years, probably.

Bible Thought For Today

WAIT ON GOD—The Lord upholdeth all that fall, and raiseth up all those that be bowed down. The eyes of all wait upon thee; and thou givest them their meat in due season. —Psalm 145: 14, 15.

PRAYER — Lord God, no good thing dost Thou withhold from them that walk uprightly.

Americanism: Accusing the jury of being influenced by the man's wealth instead of the evidence; reading no evidence, and yet thinking the man guilty merely because he's rich.

Dr. Crane's Editorial

THE CHRISTENING

An old man of some seventy years being called upon to make some remarks at a Christening responded as follows:

We have gathered here today to consecrate this child by baptism to the service of God, which means the service of humanity.

We hail this child as one of the coming generation, one of those who are to take up the torch of progress which is beginning to totter in older hands. Age is creeping upon us all, but, thank God, youth is springing up all about us to take up the problems we have left unfinished.

We wish for this child, therefore, and for all children, a sounder body than our own, a stronger mind and a purer soul. Let him be vigorous and strong, for no one can help the weak and inefficient except those who have stores of strength in themselves!

Let his mind be furnished with sound knowledge and the training of a deep wisdom! A man's value to the world is coming more and more to mean the value of his mind.

May he have quick hands and strong, but above all may they be directed by a straight-thinking and active brain!

But most of all we wish for him and for all his fellows that cleanness of soul and that highness of ideals that shall equip him nobly to bear his part in the drama of life.

We who are older look back with regret upon much that we have done. May he learn from our experience and profit by our mistakes!

What does it mean to us to wish this young voyager success as he is getting under way for his life? May he successfully live out all storms! May his ship staunchly buffet the waves and may at last he reach port crowned with success!

We ourselves have lieved in a wonderful age. Some of us have seen the rise of the telephone, the radio and the airplane. What greater wonders shall he not see! We envy the part that he shall play in his generation.

The interesting thing about this earth is not that men die, but that life continues. Go tell it to the stars about us that on this planet the earth greens every spring and flowers bloom anew, and new and lusty youth takes up the program of life where their elders lay it down.

Go, therefore, O child of promise, to greet better days!

We hand you a world cursed with war, cursed with noxious drugs and with all forms of insanity. May it be yours to help make this world a better place to live in. May you be free from superstition and the trammels of the past! May you have boldness enough to carry out your profoundest convictions! May your hand and feet be unshackled from the fetters of fear!

To the generation that shall succeed you, may you give a better world!

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

WHEN "TIME" BEGAN.

What about clocks? Who invented the "Tick-Tocks," with which to plague the Human Race? The Ancients depended upon the Sun to tell them when to get up and when to lay down. They were no better than the Birls of the Air or the Beasts of the Field when it came to telling time. Call it "Daylight Savings" or what you will, the early inhabitants of the Earth never knew whether they went to work at four o'clock or ten o'clock of a morning. They all probably arose and dug for food when the sun came over the hill and those who survived the span of sunlight were perfectly willing to "turn in" when the King of Light disappeared in the West.

The Chinese are said to have invented the clock 2000 years before Jesus Christ came upon the Earth, but very promptly lost the art and for centuries the Earth dwellers depended upon the position of the sun by day and the stars by night.

Some genius of the Middle Ages made a sand clock and another a water clock and for a while those helped the Church and the State to fix the particular part of the day when this or that had to be done. There is now the hour glass by which they are remembered.

In the Sixteenth Century, however, Galileo, watching the swaying of a lamp in the Cathedral of Pisa, timed this movement by his pulse beat, and noted that the beating were in equal time. This discovery resulted in the making of the first clocks. All the early clocks had long, swinging pendulums.

And then was the "Tick-Tock."

THE FIGHTING OPTIMIST

I like an optimist, but I
Don't like the fool who grins;
It's not the merry twinkling eye
But the fighting heart which wins.
Now duty is a serious thing
And bad luck's hard to bear,
And you can't laugh off a cruel sting
If your heart is in your care.

There's time to grin and time to frown,
And a time your joy to tell,
But only a fool when he is down
Shouts out that "all is well!"
It is good to look at a happy grin
When there is no foe to fight,
But give me the man with a stern, set chin
When there is a wrong to right.

I like the man with a laughing eye
When the skies above are blue,
But I want him to put his laughter by
When there is a job to do.
The sort of an optimist I choose
Doesn't carry a constant grin,
For he knows it's a serious thing to lose
A fight which he ought to win.

So here's to the man with the fighting heart,
Who smiles when the battle's done,
But sets his chine when the troubles start
And stands when the weakling run.
He knows that his task will call for grit,
And knows when a fight begins
That a laugh won't help him a little bit,
It's the man with the punch that wins.

COUNSEL

Three things few people will take advice on. They are marriage, money and medicine. Yet men and women would do well to seek much counsel on all three. All are prone to marry as they choose, waste or invest their money as they choose, and follow their own whims about trying to get well when they are sick.

Nobody should be too much bound by advice, but be at least should give

DIMENSIONS

The paper on which these words are printed has length, breadth and thickness. Or you may call them length, width and height. Or height, thickness and width. However you call them, there are three dimensions.

Same way with the brick in the street, the building in which you live, and the objects you see about you. Everything you can measure in three dimensions.

But there has been a great deal of speculation about the possibility of another dimension that we cannot measure or sense. It is possible that all things or somethings have qualities that might be classed as dimensions, besides length, breadth and height?

I think so. For instance, consider space. Space, if it exists at all, is just as real as a brick. But it is infinite in extent. You cannot measure it or put it within bounds. Perhaps it has no length or width or height. Perhaps its only dimensions is infinity. Infinity may be a fourth dimension, and there may be many other dimensions that we cannot sense.

There is some tendency among modern thinkers to deny the existence of space, because we cannot measure it. Persons who talk to the atom and the molecule and the electron as if they were intimately acquainted with them are inclined to deny that there is any space.

But we cannot see the atom or the molecule or the electron. We cannot feel these things nor prove their existence—unless the person to whom their existence is to be proved already believes in them.

Time and motion are not measurable in three dimensions. Neither is electricity, for that matter. These things have other dimensions that we have not learned to catalog and sense.

Love is possibly the most potent force in the universe. Doubtless it has dimensions, comparable to the dimensions of space and time. But we know so little about its essential nature that we think of it vaguely and in a personal way. Scientists work within narrow limits. They are feeling about in the half-light. They are making progress, but not very rapidly. If you asked a scientist the dimensions of love, he would ask you to see an alienist, and would turn again to his engine or his microscope.

Credit Men's Plans Complete

Program Arranged For Banquet At State Gathering Here

DELEGATES COMING ON MAY 15 AND 16

All the entertainment has been lined up and everything is in readiness for the dinner meeting of the New Castle Credit Exchange and the New Castle Association of Credit Men which will take place Tuesday evening, May 15, in the crystal ballroom of The Castleton, in connection with the annual convention of the Associated Credit Bureaus of Pennsylvania, to be held in New Castle Tuesday and Wednesday, May 15 and 16.

The feature of the evening will be an address by James Hays, manager of the Harrisburg Credit Bureau, in which he will discuss the credit situation as it applies to the retail merchant. Mr. Hays' talks are very stimulating, and he is a man who is known all over the United States as being one of the leaders in the credit world.

"The Fair of the Iron Horse," a graphic presentation of the recent exposition of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad will also be shown to the guests through special arrangements with local officials of the B. & O.

Because of an engagement which takes him to Philadelphia on Tuesday evening, Joseph E. W. Armstrong, a senior student at the Pennsylvania State college, will be unable to attend the banquet. During the last three months Mr. Armstrong has been astounding psychologists from all Pennsylvania colleges by demonstrations of his remarkable hypnotic powers. In a recent demonstration he hypnotized three subjects over the telephone and more recently he repeated his triumph over radio station WFBG at Altoona, Pa.

In Mr. Armstrong's place, through the courtesy of Louis B. Round, will appear the Pennsylvania-Ohio orchestra and other entertainers from the company. Ticket reservations are coming in fast for the dinner, states Mr. Hall, and he expects one of the largest crowds that have ever attended a dinner of the credit associations. Rotarians, Kiwanians and Lions have been invited as special guests.

WHAT TEN BOOKS?

The titles of ten books a Princeton professor said he would take with him to a desert isle were printed not long ago in this column. Suggestions of readers were asked for. A young woman who signs her name "Stenographer" sends in this list:

"The Bible."
"Les Miserables," by Victor Hugo.
"Plays of Shakespeare."
"Poems of Longfellow."
"Bridge of San Luis Rey," by Thornton Wilder.
"Walden," by Henry Thoreau.
"The Blue Flower," by Henry Van Dyke.
"Poems of Sidney Lanier"
"and two books which I have not read yet but intend to in the near future:"
"The Man Nobody Knows" by Bruce Barton.
"Napoleon," by Emil Ludwig.

BOOKS AGAIN

An able and studious lawyer, speaking of books, writes this letter:

"First I would take the Bible. And give me the King James Version, the one that says: 'And now abideth Faith, Hope and Charity, but the greatest of these is Charity.' I don't want the one that says: 'And now abideth Faith, Hope and Love.' Some people would change anything, even the classics of the Bible. We learned to love the phrase 'In my Father's house are many mansions.' The new way of saying it is 'There are many rooms.' It is only a step in the Greek from father to grandfather, and the first thing we know some Modernist will be insisting that passage should read 'In my grandfather's apartment are many places to sleep.'

"Next I would take Will Durant's 'The Story of Philosophy.' Next I would take Shakespeare.

"Inasmuch as you limit us to ten books and ten books only, I suppose my next three will have to be Warren's 'The Supreme Court in United States History.' If I could count that three-volume work in as one book, I would also like to take Beveridge's 'Life of John Marshall.' But that would add four more volumes, and I am limited to only ten in all.

"This makes me six. Next I would take Emerson's Essays.

"Next I would want Bacon's Essays.

"Next I would want to take Pope with me.

"And to balance off them all, we would throw in a volume of Tennyson."

NERVES QUIETED, SHE NOW ENJOYS RESTFUL SLEEP

Local Lady Says Ten Herbs Ended Aches and Pains and Benefited Stomach

"Three bottles of Ten Herbs caused a great improvement in my health," was the statement of Mrs. Laura Shaffer, 130½ Quest street, New Castle, to the Ten Herbs Man, who is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East

MRS. LAURA SHAFFER

Washington street, this city, where he is daily demonstrating this successful new herbal medicine to crowds of people.

"Before I used Ten Herbs, I felt tired and worn-out most of the time," Mrs. Shaffer continued. "I had pains in my arms and head, and was constipated at times. My stomach was in such a condition that I could not eat certain things without having great distress. I was so nervous I could not sleep well. My appetite was poor; and I could hardly do my work.

"After reading in the paper about Ten Herbs, I started to use your medicine. As a result, my nerves are in good condition, and I enjoy sound, restful sleep. I am free of headaches and pains in arms and head. My bowels are regular, and that tired-worn-out feeling has left me. I can eat anything without having distress, as my stomach is in good condition. My health has been improved so much, that I do not hesitate to recommend Ten Herbs to the public."

Many in this section have been restored to normal health and strength by using the great herbal compound, Ten Herbs, and the demand for it continues to grow greater every day. Its sensational success elsewhere is being repeated in this city. Ten Herbs thoroughly cleanses the clogged-up system—drives out the waste matter, gases and impurities, which often cause so much pain and misery. It benefits and invigorates the sluggish stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, usually making one feel better in every way. Every claim made for Ten Herbs is backed by a mass of evidence on file, including statements of local people.

The Ten Herbs Man is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington street, this city, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this medicine. Free sample given.

RICHMAN'S CLOTHES

"Direct from Our Factory to You"

all $22.50

10 Reasons for Richman Leadership

1 Experience founded upon half a century's continuous operation.

2 The world's largest "direct from factory" sales and production.

3 Millions of dollars cash reserve to command price concessions on fine woolens and materials.

4 Two great factories with the finest known facilities and equipment.

5 2600 employes whose ownership of Richman stock valued at $6,000,000.00 is reflected in the quality of their work.

6 Continuous, full-time operation of our factories without a shut-down except for the annual paid vacation we give our employes.

7 Nation-wide sales "direct-from our factories" through 31 stores, 500 factory sales agents, and a big mail order department.

8 One standard price everywhere, and every day in the year—$22.50 for any suit, topcoat, or tuxedo suit which includes a silk dress vest—saving our customers the middleman's profit.

9 Selling for cash—no credit losses—and no extravagance in the operation of our 31 stores.

10 An enviable reputation for fair dealing with the public—the Richman guarantee of satisfaction, with our good name and entire assets back of it, protects the buyer.

The Price Is Easily Imitated—But Only In Richman's Clothes Will You Find, at $22.50, Richman Style and Quality

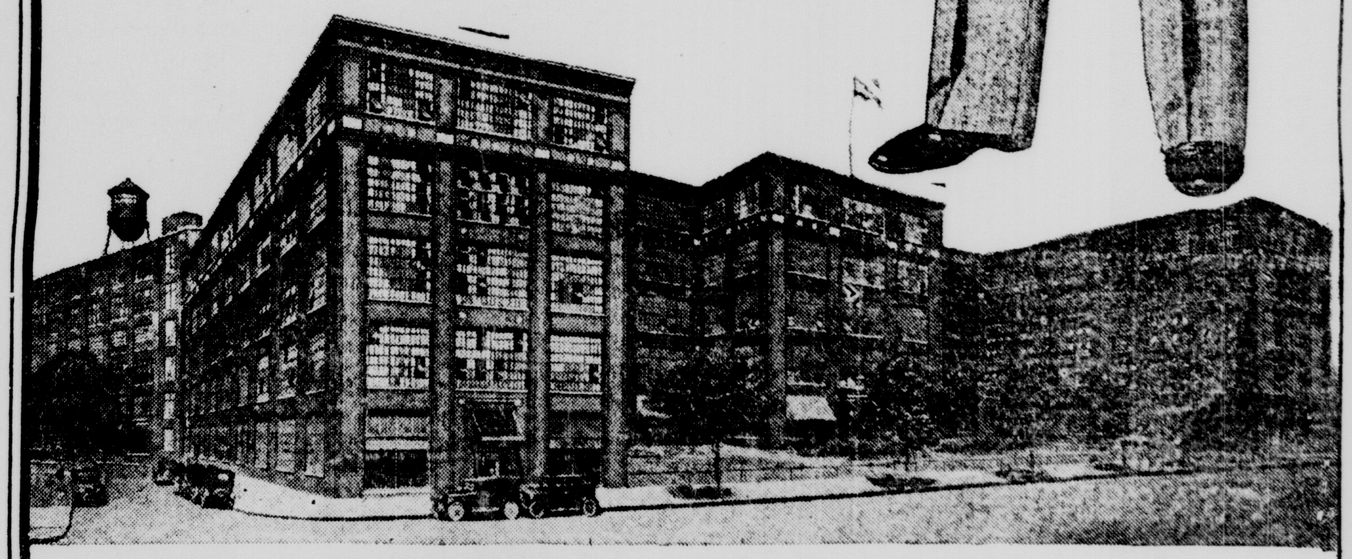

Richman's Clothes have established a new and higher standard of value for the entire clothing industry—they are made, not to meet a price, but to satisfy the style and quality requirements of well dressed men—the price is low because of the far reaching power of Richman resources—the economies of scientific volume production and direct from factory sales without a middleman's profit.

But there is no economy in a low price unless you get quality in materials and workmanship—inferior woolens and tailoring are not cheap at any price, for they give no satisfaction.

Richman's Clothes have earned the confidence of the public through half a century's continuous leadership in value giving—you may choose any suit or topcoat from our big stocks with assurance that it will give you authentic new style, rigidly tested all wool fabric, and tailoring you may depend upon for lasting style and long wear.

And you will find, here, for your selection, a greater variety of models and fabrics at one price than others show at all prices combined—every wanted model, weave and shade, in sizes and proportions to fit any figure perfectly.

Extra Trousers $3 $4 $6
Golf Suits $22.50
Knickers $6.00 White Flannels $5.00

Spanish Plane Crashes Auto

Fliers Have Narrow Escape In Attempting Take-Off At Seville

(International News Service)

SEVILLE, Spain, May 11.—The Spanish fliers, Captains Jiminez and Iglesias, had a narrow escape from death or serious injury today when their plane crashed into an automobile as they attempted to take off on their flight for a long distance record.

They emerged from the crash unscathed but one of the wings of their plane was slightly damaged. The flight was again postponed.

The heavily-loaded plane started down the runaway at 6:30 o'clock this morning and left the ground without difficulty. It appeared to be unable, however, to gain altitude and the fliers, their view obscured by a heavy mist, headed straight for an automobile at the end of the field.

One of the wings struck the vehicle. The plane wavered for an instant, then righted itself and came to the ground without overturning, relieving alarmed throngs at the field who feared a catastrophe.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT BY COMPANION, DIES AS RESULT

YOUNGSTOWN, O., May 11.—William J. Bayer, aged 16, well-known Liberty high school athlete, died in St. Elizabeth's hospital last night of a bullet wound near his lung, inflicted accidentally by a companion, Robert Boyd, at a filling station at Cline's Corners, between Churchill and Girard, yesterday morning.

The youths, who had been close friends for several years, were waiting for a school bus at the corners. Boyd had a new .25-caliber revolver and he and the Bayer lad were practicing farget shooting. Boyd went into the station to reload the pistol and Bayer followed him. In some manner Boyd accidentally pressed the trigger and the bullet struck Bayer below the left lung.

How To Achieve Beauty

By MME. HELENE RUBINSTEIN
Noted Beauty Expert

STANDING UP FOR YOURSELF

If you would look young, you must cultivate good posture. You must learn how to hold your body as though you were proud of yourself, and glad to be young and alive!

Bad posture lines can add years to your appearance. Consider how an actress portrays age. The voice? Yes, of course, but the eye is swifter and surer to register and hold impressions, and it is to the eye that the actress appeals primarily. And she portrays age by allowing her head and shoulders to droop, and has sagging knees and a spiritless walk. She knows that a fine, springy upright carriage is youthful, and that anything else implies age or infirmity.

Study yourself in a full length mirror. It is as easy to stand straight as it is to slump.

So many women droop when they are tired. Do you think it rests them to slump forward? It doesn't. It makes them more tired actually.

Walking correctly is a way of preserving and maintaining the outward appearance of youth. And to walk correctly, you must wear correct shoes. Your feet are to blame for a multitude of sins against loveliness. Aching feet etch pain lines around your mouth, they cause a dragging, wearied walk, and stooping shoulders. Shoes must fit — they must have heels neither the stilts of current fashion nor the flat, mannish heels which were the vogue a few years ago. They must support your ankle and your arch. They must, in fact, be so perfectly comfortable that you remain happily oblivious to the very existence of your feet!

A naturall walk consists of a wide, swinging step. Mincing is neither pretty nor correct. Your movement in walking should be a flowing hip movement, not a jerk step which originates at the knee. The Indians had a panther grace we might do well to emulate. The kicking up of the knees in marching is a practice tought in many schools— and a very bad one, since it teaches the child in its most plastic age, a perky unrhythmic step which frequently characterizes all future movement.

Standing occasionally against a wall, pressing your shoulders back, standing straight and tall, will help to arouse the "feeling" of correct carriage and posture. And strange as it may seem, it actually rests your muscles to stand and sit correctly.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

BY MRS. MARY MORTON

MENU HINT

The rice O'Brien is a complete "main dish" in itself. You may serve steak or chops with it if you prefer, however. Did you ever try creamed radishes? Try them when you are tired of them raw.

Broiled Chops Rice, O'Brien
Creamed Radishes
Lettuce with French Dressing
Orange Charlotte
Coffee

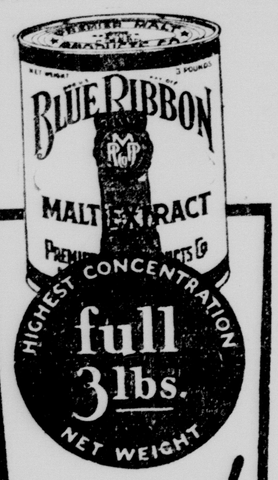

TODAY'S RECIPES

Rice O'Brien—Three cups of cooked rice, three tablespoons of minced onion, a green pepper minced, salt and pepper and four chices of bacon. Dice the bacon and saute together with the onion and pepper, add the rice and toss in the pan. The rice is difficult to brown and is really not expected to brown. The bacon and vegetables should be nicely sauted and the whole dish piping hot.

Orange Charlotte—One-fourth box gelatine, one-third cup boiling water, juice one lemon, one-half pint whipped cream, one-third cup cold water, pour in boiling water and add lemon juice, sugar and a little grated rind. Cool. Add cream and pour in mold, lined with sections of orange.

Prepare a good, strong suds and scrub the corset thoroughly with a small scrubbing brush. Rinse in several waters and hang in the sun to bleach, if the corset is white. The laces will be like new if they are taken out and washed separately. The corset may be starched a little and both the corset and the laces ironed.

If you prefer to wear a simple silk and elastic band, these can be squeezed through warm suds and the elastic part scrubbed with a small brush. It is as important to keep the corset scrupulously clean as any other item of a dainty woman's underthings.

CONSTIPATION PREYS ON HEALTH

You can overcome it with ALL-BRAN

IF YOU are troubled with constipation, read Mrs. Hogan's letter below. It came to us unsolicited—a message of relief to every sufferer:

February 12, 1927

"I want to tell you how much good your ALL-BRAN has done me. It surely can't be beat for constipation. I have tried every kind of medicine and never in my whole life have been relieved until one of my neighbors told me to try bran. So I bought a box and read about your ALL-BRAN and thought I would see what it would do—and it surely did help me. I will never be without it in the house again."

MRS. JOSEPH HOGAN,
1215 Clay St., Topeka, Kansas.

Constipation is almost universal. The cause of more than forty diseases. Dizziness, aching backs, circled eyes, bad complexions, are only a few of its symptoms.

Guard against it. Start tomorrow eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Two tablespoonfuls daily —chronic cases, with every meal. Guaranteed. Doctors recommend it.

A healthful cereal. Serve ALL-BRAN with milk or cream—and add fruits or honey. Sprinkle it into soups. Use it in cooking. Sold by all grocers. Served everywhere. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Would Establish Fund To Purchase Blood Transfusion

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 11.—Many times only the transfusion of life-giving blood from a healthy person to one fighting for heart-beat can ward off death.

But when the patient is penniless and dangerously ill—there arises the problem, according to Dr. Lionel S. Schmitt, director of the University of California here.

"Professional donors of blood charge $50 for each transfusion," said Dr. Schmitt. "The problem of finding money to pay their charge has constantly grown greater. I believe it is only by establishment of a fund donated by interested people that we can hope to cope with the emergencies of the situation."

Members of the hospital staff point out that blood transfusion has been the means of saving the lives of countless people.

Seeking Leaders For Girl Scouts

Local Committee Asks For Volunteers To Train As Leaders

MISS STERLING IS HEAD OF COMMITTEE

What do you think a 14 year old girl ought to be able to do and to be? When you have made your mental picture of the best sort of girl, the Girl Scouts think they can show her to you.

First, she must be healthy, and you needn't add, happy, for a healthy girl is a happy one. Scouting takes the girls out into the open, hikes with them, teaches them woodcraft, camping and swimming, and often, incidentally, certain fundamental rules of hygiene, such as eating wholesome food, going to bed early, exercising in the open air, and cleanliness. The outdoor life brings with it more than health in the ordinary sense—it brings quite, steady nerves, and peace and delight that comes as the intimate knowledge of woods and birds and stars increases.

The next thing you wish for this girl is that she may have sane, practical (and interesting—don't forget that) preparation for the home "She should get this training in her own home", you may reply. Well, does she? Can you cast out the bugaboo "house work" in the observance of homemaking? You see, you can't supply her with several jolly chums of her own age, as a working unit, to begin with. You can't supply the group competition, the normal "gang spirit" that all healthy youngsters have at her age. You can't give her "merit badges" for cooking, sewing, home nursing, and the child care, to sew on the sleeve of her uniform. And, so, naturally, you can't have the reward of seeking her work like a beaver to get these badges! But the Girl Scout captain sees her.

Finally, what you want is a fair-and-square, play-the-game sort of a girl. This cannot be done by talking about and handing down peachments from above. The Girl Scouts teaches it to one another.

The Girl Scout activities center around four interests—nome, health, nature, citizenship. From a Lone Girl Scout led by Miss Pauline Gilkey, there have grown four troops in New Castle.

That scouting appeals to the girls is shown by the fact that there are more girls who wish to join a troop than the Girl Scout Council can find troop leaders for. The qualifications for a Scout Leader are to be at least 18 years of age, and to have a real interest in girls and their ways.

Any qualified person who wishes to be trained as a Scout leader is asked to see the Chairmen of the Educational Committee of the Girl Scout Council, Miss Alice Sterling, Call 2102 or 3014-J.

The Council hopes to solve the problem of training troop leaders by securing a trained Scout commissioner, who will also act as a camp director.

College Town High Juniors Are Winners

Run Away With Track Contests; Other News Of New Wilmington

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, May 11. — Emulating the class of '29 of the college, the juniors of the college town high school romped away with the scholastic interclass track championship with a total of 51 points. The seniors who were runners-up in the meet that was held here the first four days of this week, beating out the sophomores by a five point margin.

Because of their inexperience the freshmen of the high school came in last, with only a total of seven points. The stars of the meet included Hutchinson, Hamilton Eagleson, and Newton of the juniors: Patterson and Klumph of the sophomores; and Smith and Maxwell of the seniors.

Basing his judgment on the results of the interclass track meet, Coach Wiggins picked twelve men to represent the local school in the county class B meet. The college town high now holds the Class B championship and it is thought that it might capture the Class A title this year.

Yesterday evening in the local United Presbyterian church, an unusually interesting illustrated lecture on the Holy land was given. Natives of the Palestine country and scenes to which the Bible refers were shown to the people of the town

The Rev. Linson H. Stebbins, a graduate of Westminster college and well known to New Wilmington people, visited here for a few days this week, preparatory to taking up his duties as pastor of Sugar Grove church in the Erie Presbytery.

Hand-lever propelled lifeboats are being supplied to a number of the new steamships now being built in British shipyards. In this type of lifeboat oars are dispensed with, the boat being driven by a small screw propeller made to revolve by hand levers, so many on each side of the boat, according to capacity. The levers are worked backwards and forwards, and this can be done by any man, woman or young person. When not in use the levers are folded at the side so as not to interfere with the loading of the boat.

Stag Party For Fraternity Men

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., May 11 —As a final honor before the hurry of commencement week, the members of the Phi Pi Phi fraternity here gave a stag last night to the graduating members of the organization. A program, in which each of the seniors gave a short talk, was given.

A few of the alumni members of the fraternity and all the active members were present, and the success of the event is accredited to the stag committee, composed of Milton Scott, John Strothard, John Yytle, Frank Colegrove and John Witherspoon. This committee took charge of the program, decoration and refreshments.

Bremen Fliers Are In Chicago

Battle Fog And Drizzle In Flight From Cleveland, Ohio

FORMAL PROGRAM TO START TODAY

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, May 11.—After a tempestuous voyage from Philadelphia, similar in a minor degree to the uncertainties of their famous trans-Atlantic hop, the brave crew of the good ship Bremen—Von Huenefeld, Fitzmaurice and Koehl—were safe today in the arms of Chicago.

The famous trio came to earth here last evening—one hour and a half late—after battling fog and rain that centered over Ohio. In the twilight drizzle that fell over Chicago, the fliers lost their bearings and landed at the air mail field in Maywood, west side suburb, while thousands of patient spectators stood in the rain at Chicago's municipal airport awaiting their arrival.

A small boy who happened to be near the Maywood field when the huge Junkers F-13, sister ship of the Bremen, came to earth, recognized the fliers and directed them to Chicago's municipal airport.

There were no official functions last night, the fliers being allowed one night of rest to prepare for the grueling round of entertainment in store today and tomorrow.

A mammoth parade will be the feature of today's celebration, from the standpoint of the "man in the street". It will probably be the average citizen's only chance to get a "close-up" of the world famous hero triumvirate.

Numerous semi-private and official affairs, interspersed with sight-seeing trips over the city, will complete the entertainment docket. The fliers will leave here Monday to continue their tour of American and Canadian cities.

BOY SCOUT Activities

SCOUT BAND

The Boy Scout Band held a very successful practice last evening at the A. C. McCoy lobby under the direction of Mr. Harry Truschel. Because of a banquet which was being held in the Elks Home, the Scouts gave up their regular meeting place for this meeting. Twenty four band members were present. Two new boys were voted into the Scout Band.

Arrangements have been made for the band to go to Ellwood City on Saturday afternoon for the purpose of publicity for the Community Chest drive which is being held at Ellwood and to arouse interest in Scouting in that district. Moving pictures will be taken of the Band.

The Scouts are asked to meet at the Elks Home at twelve o'clock and they will march from there to the First Christian church where transportation will be furnished by the Ellwood City committee. The Scouts will leave New Castle about 12:30 o'clock and will return about three o'clock.

All Scouts are urged to wear full uniforms if possible. Some of the neckchiefs and insignias were given out at the meeting last night but the others will be given Saturday. Mr. Truschel, leader of the band, has requested that all members be present Saturday so that the parade in Ellwood City will be a success.

Patrol leaders are asked to please take notice of this announcement so that they may call all members in their patrols to urge them to be present.

Has An Interesting Time With Members Of His Profession In Kansas City

Russian Rowdies Get Death Sentences For Murder Of Woman

(International News Service)

KNIAJEVO, Siberia, May 11.—Two of 11 youthful hooligans from 16 to 20 years of age have been executed by a firing squad for the most brutal criminal assault on a woman since the horrible attack on a school teacher by 28 men near Leningrad two years ago. The other nine rowdies were sentenced to from three to ten years imprisonment at hard labor.

The youths confessed to waylaying the 45-year-old wife of a peasant on a lonely road soon after dark as she was walking to Kniajevo village with a pail of milk. She was bound and gagged, and after the attack thrown into a snow bank by the side of the road. Her husband found her two hours later when he started search with a neighbor fearing foul play.

Political Future Of Herbert Hoover Hangs In Balance, Is Strong Belief

Pennsylvania's 79 Delegates To Kansas City May Get Instructions

By GEORGE R. HOLMES.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 11.—Pennsylvania, the Keystone state, appropriately enough holds an all-important key to the political future of Herbert Hoover.

Tomorrow the Republican big-wigs of Pennsylvania will hold a caucus and party conference in Philadelphia at which the policy of Pennsylvania's 79 delegates to the Kansas City convention may or may not be determined.

Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon who thus far has reserved a sphink-like silence concerning the candidacy of his cabinet colleague will be present and every political ear in Washington is already grounded to catch the vibrations of the gathering—if any.

Indiana Vote Hurts.

The votes of Pennsylvania or a good part of them at least, are vitally necessary to the nomination of Hoover. Figure as they will—and do—the Hoover managers cannot arrive at a table of reasonable expectations of more than 500 votes without some help from Pennsylvania and 545 are necessary to determine the Republican choice at Kansas City. And in that 500 table the Hoover tabulators are stretching several points which may not in the final analysis stand for stretching. Hence their interest in Pennsylvania and in the Philadelphia gathering tomorrow.

Had Hoover succeeded in carrying Indiana against Senator Watson there is but little doubt that the Philadelphia conclae tomorrow would have endorsed his candidacy and perhaps assured his nomination.

The Hoover defeat however has given the Pennsylvania leaders pause while the showing made by the secretary of commerce in both Ohio and Indiana was a good one, so far as the cities were concerned, it has been noted significantly that in both states Hoover lost the rural communities by substantial majorities. This is a weakness that has impressed the managing politicians of the party for they realize that against Al Smith's undoubted strength in the populous and industrial east they must have a candidate capable of carrying the great grain belt that stretches from Ohio to the Rockies.

Weak in Rural Sections.

The Hoover opposition is making much of this point. They point out for instance, that not only has Hoover failed to carry a rural district in either of the two states wherein he has been tested, but also that in the matter of delegates Hoover has less than a score between the Ohio-Indiane line and Colorado. This they contend is a clear-cut demonstration of weakness in the very teritory that the Republicans must count upon certainly if a Republican administration is to succeed itself in Washington next year.

The impression prevailed here today that in this situation the meeting of the Pennsylvania organization leaders tomorrow will be a pleasant social gathering without commitments for or against any candidate. The capitol rail-birds believe that the leaders will prefer to wait a while longer before tieing up with any candidate and probably will go to Kansas City one month from tomorrow still fancy free. The 79 delegates of course can be held intact by voting for A. W. Mellon in the early ballots.

Mellon Silent.

So far as Washington knows Mellon has never given the slightest indication of his own feeling toward the Hoover candidacy.

Mellon was for the renomination of President Coolidge and when that appeared a futile hope he promptly endorsed Charles E. Hughes only to have Hughes eliminate himself as his first choice had done. After that Mellon relapsed into silence which he has since maintained unbroken.

Surface indicatins have pointed to ultimate Mellon support for the Hoover candidacy. Under Secretary of the Treasury Ogden Mills has been one of the Hoover board of strategy and Gov. Fisher of Pennsylvania, a party of the Mellon organization has also been prominent in the Hoover movement.

But Mr. Mellon himself has been silent—and it is generally admitted that this will be the hand that unlocks the Pennsylvania keystone for some candidate.

China is looking for a suitable national anthem. Assuming that "Sweet Adaline" would too much reflect the influences of the "foreign devil," we respectfully suggest, "Sing Hi, Sing Lo."—Fort Wayne News-Sentinel.

Ten Arrested In Liquor Raid On Big Warehouse

Prohibition Agents At Pittsburgh Stage Big Cleanup At Warehouse

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 11.—Illicit liquor valued at $100,000 was seized early today when federal prohibition agents raided a warehouse here, it was announced by prohibition headquarters.

The agents seized 402 barrels of whisky, 50,000 counterfeit government revenue stamps, more than 30,000 whisky and ale labels and several barrels of whisky "chips" used for flavoring purposes, prohibition authorities said.

Ten persons were arrested, including the alleged owners of the contraband, Manfred Feitler, 57, and Isaac Donovitz, 46, both of Pittsburgh. The others were employes, officials said. One was a young woman clerk.

The contraband stuff seized by the agents was carried in 52 truckloads, officials said.

Hoye's Plane Nearly Ready To Take Air

Following a thorough overhauling, which has been going on for some weeks, the airplane which was taken over by Vic Hoye is nearly ready for the air. The plane is the one which started from Rochester, Pa., last summer for Youngstown, O., but cracked up. The engine has been repaired and every part of it gone over. Within a week or shortly after, Mr. Hoye expects to be able to try the plane out.

County Detective Makes Arrest

Just as a preliminary to leaving for Harrisburg with a load of band boys, County Detective William G. Fleming added another customer to his list of spring cleaning arrests on Thursday night.

Joe Balish of the West Pittsburg road, was arrested and a quantity of liquor seized. In default of $1500 bail he was remanded to the county jail by Alderman O. H. P. Green.

There is a marriage broker in New York who guarantees girls marriage to a man of means and social position or money back. She is a middle-aged woman, a member of an impoverished family, with social connections in New York, Newport, Southampton, Aiken and other colonies.

She requires that her clients be beautiful, accomplished, poised and of reputable family. The broker has a regular systematic procedure of match making. She entertains her client, inviting persons of high social position, including wealthy men of marriagable age, and then obtains for the prospective bride invitations to fashionable affairs. She furthers her client's interest by showing her off to the best advantage, seeing that she is at the "right places" at the "right times" and acting as a diplomatic go-between. Naturally, she is very careful of her client's reputation.

She is credited with having brought about several successful marriages to men of millions. Of course, her fee as a broker is quite high.

Another reason why you can't believe your eyes on Broadway is that a considerable number of "leg pads" are sold in hosiery stores along the street. The pad fits very neatly over the calf and creates what is to the passing eye a shapely leg.

Every town has a lot of fishermen who would love to know J. Harvey Ladew of New York. He is spending $50,000 to enjoy the fishing along the coast of Nicaragua which Zane Grey says is the fisherman's paradise. He chartered a five-masted schooner to take him and his friends down for the sport.

Take Measures To Block Medal Awards For Many Aviators

War And Navy Departments Vitally Interested In Medal Awards

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 11.—The war and navy departments have taken steps to block nearly a score of bills pending in congress for the granting of congressional medals to aviators.

Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, it was indicated, will be the only transoceanic flyer to gain the coveted medals at the hands of this session.

"The navy department considers that the award of the medal of honor should be most carefully guarded and that it should be granted only in pursuance of existing law, save for most exceptional achievements, such as the transpolar flight of Commander Byrd and the trans-Atlantic flight alone of Col. Lindbergh," wrote Acting Secretary of the Navy Robinson to the house naval affairs committee.

The same attitude was taken by Secretary of War Davis in disapproving several measures.

Negro Girl Found Brutally Slain

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 11.—Police today began a search for the slayer of Bertha Thomas, 15, negro school girl of Donora, whose battered body was found late yesterday beneath a pile of leaves in Forward township.

The body was covered with bruises and practically all the clothing had been torn off. Detectives expressed the opinion that the girl had been attacked and slain and the body taken to the lonely spot in a hollow about one mile from Elizabeth.

John Coleman, a relative, and others who had searched for the girl since her disappearance last Thursday, found the body.

ENJOYS GLORIOUS HEALTH; GLAD TO INDORSE KONJOLA

Young New Castle Lady Says New Medicine Ended All Her Health Troubles

This surprising new medical compound, Konjola, which the Konjola Man is explaining in person to large crowds daily at the Love and Megown drug store, 204 East Washington St., has not only become the sensation of this city, but is also the talk of cities and towns thruout this entire section. For instance, just the other day Miss Sylvia Cooper, 1204 School St., New Castle, made the following report about Konjola.

"I had been a sufferer for years", said Miss Cooper, "trying first one thing and then another, before I ever knew there was a medicine like Konjola, and now since I got this new compound it has ended years of constipation for me and my stomach trouble is gone.

"The worst thing about my case was the awful constipation pains that came over me. I couldn't eat a meal without suffering. My food seemed to sour and ferment, causing loads of gas to form and sharp pains around my heart. I was also subject to heart burn that lasted for hours. Because of the constipation my system filled with poisons and I never could get rid of them. Although I tried strong laxatives, they never gave me any relief. All during the day I would have awful dizzy spells that felt as if a thousand needles were sticking in me. Besides these troubles my liver was sluggish and this caused my complexion to be almost yellowish. I didn't know what it was to get a good night's rest and I always felt dreadful in the mornings.

MISS SYLVIA COOPER

Seavy Photo

"When the Konjola Man reached New Castle I decided to try this medicine. It turned out to be just exactly what my system always needed. Before my first bottle was gone I could feel an improvement in every way. I continued with the medicine and now I can enjoy meals without suffering afterward. The indigestion spells do not come and I never suffer from gas bloating or heartburn like I used to. Konjola regulated my bowels and I have free movement every day. The dizzy spells have disappeared and my complexion has cleared up. In every way I feel like a new person. I sleep soundly all night long.

"Konjola has done more for me than anything else I ever tried and I will always be glad to recommend it to others who suffer."

The Konjola Man is at the Love and Megown drug store, 204 East Washington St., New Castle, where he is daily meeting the public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given.

Delay Awarding Contract Pending Approval Of State

Street Improvement Project Is Temporarily Held Up By New Law

Improvements by the city of New Castle are likely to be delayed pending an opinion by state's attorney-general relative to an act passed by the legislature requiring approval from the bureau of municipalities, department of interiors, before cities can increase bond indebtedness.

Today when council met and was about to award a contract for paving Sampson street, it was discovered that the work was to be paid by certificates of indebtedness.

Solicitor White explained that the state had issued a rule that all certificates of indebtedness must first be submitted and approved by the state.

He advised council to delay an award pending the decision.

According to White the law was passed to keep cities from over-bonding and along the idea that they should take care of their sinking fund.

Finally the phase of certificates of indebtedness entered into the problem and the bureau of municipalities has asked the attorney-general for a decision whether improvements can be made without securing the approval when certificates are issued.

Mistake In Bid Means Rejection

Council To Throw Out Bids In Which Errors Are Found

Councilman Burns today received sanction of his colleagues during council meeting at city hall when he presented a motion which may in the future result in contractors being more accurate in submitting bids.

He submitted a motion which said: "If upon examination or checking of any bid submitted to the city for any improvement and any error be found in the addition or extension therein, the said bid shall be rejected."

His idea is to correct false impressions reaching citizens.

"My reason is that we receive bids and the prices as given in the bids are announced publicly, and sometimes it appears that a certain contractor has submitted the low bid.

"When the figures are added up by the city engineer they are found to have been totaled wrong," he said.

"The state has adopted this policy," said Councilman Reeves, and councilmen voted unanimously to adopt the Burns motion.

In the future accuracy will figure in award of bids.

Mayor Gillespie Rides In Plane

Taken For Air Tour Of Home City About Noon Hour

The six visiting planes from Pittsburgh were to leave Kegarise Field for Rogers Field, Pittsburgh, this afternoon.

Previous to their departure Mayor William H. Gillespie was taken up in the Kegarise ship for a nice long flight over the city and came down an enthusiast for flying in the air.

The ship was piloted by Lieutenant Sherman of the Kegarise Air Transport Company and Mr. Kegarise was seated with the mayor in the passengers' seat.

Among other things the mayor looked down on his own home and other objects of interest in the city.

There is little fairness in the world. The recorded number of errors never includes those made by the umpires.

Stop Harrison Street Paving

Differences Between Contractor And M. L. & H. Co. Delays Work

Members of council today ordered City Engineer Frank Miller to stop paving of Harrison street when differences between M. J. Scanlon, contractor and Joseph Campbell, manager of the Manufacturers Light & Heat Company arose relative to gas lines.

Campbell charged that the gas lines are only a few inches below the surface of the street as graded.

He said that should the 10-ton roller be operated gas lines would be broken which would cause a menace.

Campbell said he had received notice on one broken pipe last night and permission to fix it was refused.

Scanlon took the stand and said he had been told by an employe of the gas company weeks ago the pipes were all right.

The contractor charged that when his men left Harrison street last night there were no gas leaks.

Being in charge of the street he declared he wants the gas company to guarantee any work they do on the street.

As the contractor he is responsible for the paving for five years.

They ordered the paving stopped pending a settlement of the situation.

Would Attract Planet Mars By Cloud Of Smoke

By CHARLES A. SMITH.
BY DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service

LONDON, May 11—In declaring that it is "almost inevitable that there are many other planets bearing life" Dr. Barnes, the Modernist Bishop of Birmingham has again brought into the sphere of controversy the question whether the earth can communicate with Mars or other planets.

Professor A. M. Low, the brilliant young English scientist and inventor has entered the argument with the suggestion that an attempt be made to gain the eye of Mars by means of a great smoke cloud of 20 miles or by an elaborate system of illumination.

"It may sound somewhat foolish to attemput such signals" Low declares, "but not to make any attempt at all seems equally foolish."

On Other Planets.

While other scientists of note accept the possibility of life elsewhere than on the earth they are skeptical of the possibilities of actual proof. In the opinion of Sir Oliver Lodge the world may never solve the problem. In the event he asks who would understand messages from another planet?"

"On the general question of other worlds" Low told International News Service, "it seems to me that life exists wherever you look and we know that life exists which we cannot see. If we had the eyes of a microscope we would be afraid to take our morning bath.

Life May Differ.

"Why should we be so extraordinily conceited as to assume that life does not exist on any other planets? It might be life in an impalpable and incomprehensive form to us. I do not believe life on such planets is on a higher plane than ours. If it were surely the inhabitants would have discovered some method of knowing about our own life and communicating with us.

"Whatever the state of life on Mars for instance it should not prevent us making a reasonably logical attempt to gain the eye of Mars.

"Such might be a huge smoke cloud above the normal clouds, a cloud of say 20 miles, that might be visible to Martian eyes as a patch. Or an extraordinary elaborate system of illumination might be tried.

"We would at least learn something from the methods employed, even if the result was negative."

To Have Clean Up Day At Grove City

Commercial Club Asks All To Co-operate In Affair Saturday

GROVE CITY, Pa., May 11.—Grove City's annual clean-up day will be held today, under the direction of the civic affairs committee of the Commercial club, headed by Dr. C. H. Williamson, who have been working and planning for several weeks to make the day a success.

All the citizens of Grove City are requested to cooperate with the civic affairs committee and the Boy Scouts in the annual work of cleaning up the streets, back yards, alleys and vacant lots.

Bootleggers Families Burder Beaver County

BEAVER, May 11.—The board of county commissioners have inaugurated a policy of economy here, following an investigation that shows that the poor fund exceeded the estimates of last year by $50,000. Commissioner Walter Goettman said, today, that certain expenses connected with the operation of his department would be curtailed.

Bootlegging is blamed by Commissioner Goettman. When a bootlegger is convicted in the local courts, nine times out of 10 his family is placed on the county to keep, while he serves his time.

Judging from the trouble the photographers had in reaching Greenely Island, that would be a good place for an oil witness to spend a vacation. —Haverhill Evening Gazette.

Arrest Harry Bell In Mercer County

Charge Grove City Man With Being Leader Of Bootleggers

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Pa., May 11.—In the arrest on Tuesday afternoon by County Detective Sam Leyshock, and his force, of Harry Bell, well known Grove City Italian, it is believed that one of the leaders in the illicit liquor traffic in eastern Mercer county is in custody.

Bell has been under suspision of the District Attorney's office for some time and an arrest has been imminent for several days, but it was feared that sufficient testimony was not in sight to hold the man. The time was made opportune by the arrest of Dan Royer, aged Pine Township bootlegger.

When before the Court for sentence Royer, when questioned by Judge McLaughry, as to where he purchased his liquor, told the Court he was afraid to inform on the source, that he would be shot. He was told not to talk at the time, but was later questioned by the District Attorney's office when he told them that in February he had purchased a large quantity of liquor from Bell.

With this information, no time was lost in placing the man under arrest He was given a hearing before Justice T. W. McClain on Tuesday afternoon when he was held for the June term of Quarter Sessions Court in the sum of $3000, which was furnished.

Royer was the principal witness against Bell, and under the protection of the District Attorney's office, made a clean breast of his transactions with the man.

County Detective Sam Leyshock considers the arrest an important one and believes that one of the principal leaks has been stopped.

PETER'S ADVENTURES in ANIMAL LAND

BY MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

SAFETY FIRST

Peter could scarcely believe he was looking at a nest. It was so tiny. He knelt down to examine it more carefully.

"Did you do that on purpose?" he asked, touching the nest with a careful finger.

"Do what?" asked the Hummingbirds in chorus.

"Twist the moss about the nest and around the twigs to which it is fastened?"

"Why of course we did that on purpose. We want the nest to look like a knot on the branch to anyone who might be passing. There are plenty of prying eyes whose owners might do us harm if they spied it." Mr. Humming-bird took it upon himself to answer.

"Well, you've done what you wanted to do!" cried Peter. "I could look at the nest a dozen times and not guess what I was seeing. Say, how did you make the moss stick so well?" The boy was curious. Now it was Mrs. Humming-bird who answered.

"With glue from our mouths," said she. "It is 'safety first' always with us Humming-birds, although I do think the moss makes our home pretty while it protects it. I wonder if you noticed husband didn't fly straight here from the honeysuckle bush?"

"I did, and for a moment I wondered where he had gone to!" laughed Peter. "He certainly flew out of sight."

"He did and he flew out of sight on purpose. He didn't intend that any of the prying-eyed people should get a suspicion where our nest was hidden. He rose so high to throw any chance passer-by off the track. If he hadn't wanted you to, you would not have caught him dropping down from the sky, either. He would have waited until you had gone before coming back to the nest. The long way home is the safe way home for a Humming-bird to take. By the way, aren't the eggs cunning?"

Peter had been studying them all the while the lady bird was chirping.

"Cunning! I should say so! They're no larger than beans and as white as the eggs our white leghorns lay. They're not quite round, though, are they?"

"Round? I should hope not. I should be disgraced if they were!" Mrs. Humming-bird flirted her tail. "My eggs are oval and my children will be strong and healthy like all the children of my family. They'll fly a week after they are hatched and that is more than any other mother bird can say of her children. I have been sitting on the eggs for nine days. Unless I'm much mistaken, tomorrow we shall hear the children scratching to be let out of their shells. Before night out will pop their dear wee heads. And then how their dad and I will have to hustle to feed their hungry little tummies! They must have all the flower wine they can hold so they shall grow strong of wing. It shall never be said any child of ours didn't have a fair start in life!"

City To Oppose Bus Application

Opposed Grant To Harmony Short Line By State Two Years Ago

Several years ago the Harmony Short Route was given a state franchise to operate bus lines over the city's objection and today council, upon hearing that a renewal of the license is desired instructed City Solicitor White to renew his objection.

Councilmen said that service is at the rate of passenger service of 7 cents a mile. Other applicants two years ago offered better and cheaper service, council declared.

Solicitor White contended in advising councilmen today that the "only object of the request is to hold the franchise."

He was instructed to follow his own dictates which virtually means the city will oppose the application of the company for a writ of public convenience to haul freight, merchandise and passengers in Lawrence county.

The hearing will be held May 31, at Pittsburgh.

White To Present Police Opinion

Proper Method Of Electing Officers To Be Outlined In Opinion

Pending an opinion from City Solicitor White relative to the proper way to choose city policemen here councilmen today during council session delayed until Monday and perhaps Tuesday, the desire of the mayor to name one policemen to the force. It was an amicable agreement.

When council met, the mayor asked the Civil Service board to present a list of eligibles.

A list containing the names of J. F. Parker, C. F. Suber and J. M. Dunlap was presented.

The mayor recommended the appointment of Parker. All of the councilmen and the mayor on final roll call voted negatively.

The mayor again presented the name of Parker and the same action followed.

Councilman Burns questioned the manner in which the voting was being carried out, not because of any differences between any of the councilmen or the mayor but simply to have the procedure of council legal.

The mayor said that he had been told that the way to vote on this had been explained by Lee McFate of the Civil Service board. It was evident that it was the desire to put the name of Parker before council three times and have it taken from the list.

The mayor replied that Lee McFate of the Civil Service board had informed him that before the name of any eligible could be removed the eligible party would necessarily have to be rejected three times.

Solicitor R. M. White differed with this information and he was asked by council to present an opinion outlining the proper procedure by which policemen can be named from the eligible list.

Consider Appeal In Tax Decision

Consider Adverse Decisions In Cases Of Senator Couzens And Mrs. Alice Kales

GOVERNMENT MAY APPEAL RULINGS

WASHINGTON, May 11.—An appeal from adverse income tax decisions arising out of an effort to collect additional taxes of nearly $37,000,000 from former Ford Motor company minority stockholders was considered today at a conference of Treasury and Justice Department officials.

Decisions of the board of tax appeals which ruled that Senator Couzens (R) of Michigan, does not owe $10,000,000 additional taxes, and the U. S. circuit court of appeals at Cincinnati, hold that Mrs. Alice G. Kales, of Detroit is entitled to a $2,627,209 refund taxes illegally collected, were examined.

The government has six months in which to appeal the cases The Kales action may be taken to the U. S. supreme court, while the Couzens case would go to the circuit court, if it appears that errors have been made by the lower tribunals.

Former Solicitor of Internal Revenue A. W. Gregg, who prosecuted the Ford cases for the government, probably will be called in to conference with Solicitor C. M. Charest to determine whether an appeal is advisable. Some doubt was expressed that the government will take the cases to higher courts in view of the unanimous view of both the tax board and the Federal tribunals.

DIRECTORS HEAR ROCHESTER MAN

Chamber Of Commerce Directors In Session On Thursday At Noon

E. W. Martsolf, president of the E. W. Martsolf company, incorporated, of Rochester, Pa., an organization that specializes in community financing and building and developing, explained the workings of his company in maintaining a fund for community betterment at the regular semi-monthly meeting of the board of directors of the New Castle Chamber of Commerce, which took place Thursday at noon in the dining room of the Elks home.

Nothing of importance to the community was taken up at this meeting, says Secretary James W. Cole. Routine business was transacted. It was also announced that Alfred W. Chilton, former secretary of the chamber, spent the first three days of this week attending the annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, where he represented New Castle.

Fred L. Rentz, first vice president of the chamber, presided at the meeting in the absence of David S. Pyle, the president. Directors who were present are O. P. Brown, Thomas W. Dickey, L. G. Genkinger, T. H. Hartman, J. H. Lamb, W. F. Moody, James K. Love, James M. Smith, Ira T. Ramsey, the Hon. George T. Weingartner, R. J. Tully and A. C. Hoyt. Herbert Peairs, manager of the Scottish Rite cathedral and acting secretary of the New Castle Chamber of Commerce during the hiatus between Mr. Chilton's resignation and the arrival of Mr. Cole, was a guest at the meeting.

Chicago Police To Enforce Curfew On All-Night Activity

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, May 11.—An ancient curfew law, ignored since the World war, is to be rigidly enforced in "naughty" Chicago, Commissioner of Police Michael Hughes made it plain today.

The law requires all poolrooms, cabarets and "soft drink" parlors to close their doors not later than 1 a. m.

The man who kicks because the great abuse their power is the very one who wishes at times he were driving a truck just to show 'em.

There's a car now for every 5.3 persons. The three-tenths persons are the ones that just finished an argument with a truck.

It is suggested that island possessions be given modern names. Think of calling the Virgin Islands the Flapper Islands!

New Mess System For Royal Navy Is Big Post-War Change

(International News Service)

PORTMOUTH, Eng., May 11.—One of the greatest changes in the Royal Navy in post-war times has been the adoption of a new system of messing.

Previously each mess (group of sailors) catered for itself, the men taking it in turns to be "cook" whether expert or completely ignorant of the culinary art. The cook's privileges included an extra share of the day's rum ration.

The mess having chosen its menu from such dishes as "Schooner on a Rock" (meat roasted over potatoes, "Spithead Pheasants" (bloaters) "Zeppelins in a Fog" (sausages) "Figgy Duff" (pudding), "Rabbit's Food" (pudding) and so on, the cook had to prepare the food, take it to the galley, where it was cooked and serve it. The result was not always happy.

Some of these dishes, however, are losing their popularity, for higher culinary flights are possible now that each ship has its trained cooks and bakers and a central messing system.

Proper table ware has superseded the old-time basin or "purser's knife."

North Liberty

The Liberty Township supervisors attended a meeting at Mercer, Monday, relative to the closing of some township roads.

A shower was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Boyd, Tuesday evening, in honor of their son and daughter, who were recently married.

The young people of the community serenaded Rev. and Mrs. Van Cleve, Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cooper were at Mars the last of the week visiting Mrs. Cooper's mother, Mrs. Shaner, who has been seriously ill.

Mrs. M. E. Glenn, who has been spending some time with her son, O. J. Glenn, returned to her home at New Wilmington last Sunday.

Bertha Glenn and Mary Moore have returned home, their schools closng on Tuesday.

Harold George is the guest of his aunt, Mrs. I. R. Guist, of Grove City.

O. J. Glenn and Lewis Sankey were Butler visitors Tuesday.

George Stevenson of Youngstown, and Arthur Stevenson, of Sharon, spent Sunday with their parents here.

Rev. and Mrs. Van Cleve were visitors at Ellwood on Tuesday.

Mother's Day will be observed in our church services on Sabbath. The subject of the pastor's message will be: "A Mother of Isreal."

Mrs. O. J. Glenn and Bertha were visitors at Sharon Thursday.

The Junior-Senior banquet of the Plain Grove High school will be held at Everett Moore's on Friday evening.

Helen Cooper is at Mars staying for some time with her grandmother.

Mr. and Mrs. Foster and little son, of West View, Pittsburgh, were guests of relatives here over the week end.

Clair Seth of this place and Zenova Orr, of Youngstown, were married last week and have taken house-keeping apartments on Washington street, New Castle.

Agnes Brenneman of Grove City College, was a visitor at Howard Brenneman's the last of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Clair Seth of New Castle, and Mr. and Mrs. James Coutts of Pittsburgh, were visitors at G. H. Seth's over the week end.

If they are ashamed when a casual visitor finds them eating in the kitchen, they are making "easy payments" on a car they can't afford.

Companionate marriage seems reasonable to everybody except those who are married, have been, or expect to be.

Don't blame the show-off. The man with a small stock must keep most of it in the window.

Start Brick Work On Nurses' Home

Rushing Construction Of Nurses Home At Jameson Memorial Hospital

The actual brick and stone work for the nurses home at the Jameson Memorial hospital, located on West Leasure avenue, was started early Tuesday afternoon, according to a representative of the Boldt Construction company of Cleveland, who are doing the building.

All efforts will now be bent on running up the walls of the nurses home so that a concrete second floor can be poured by the concreters, who are now building the front porch to the home.

Except for bricklayers working on the solarium and pent houses of the hospital building, work on it has almost come to a standstill because interior partitioning cannot be started until the arrival of door bucks. However, the layers off are progressing, and when the door bucks do arrive, another force of bricklayers will begin to run up the tile partitioning.

One of the features of the structure will be that it is absolutely fireproof. The only place that wood will be used will be in the door and window frames.

At the main entrance of the building, on Leasure avenue, stone masons have almost completed setting steps. This, it is expected, will be finished by Saturday.

Eleven Governors To Attend Good Roads Meet At Des Moines

(International News Service)

DES MOINES, Ia., May 11.—The 16th annual convention of the United States Good Roads association will meet in Des Moines May 28 to June 1 with one of its principal objectives promotion of sentiment in the interest of an addition to the president's cabinet of a secretary of highways.

The program of the association also embraces consolidation of all road building activities of the federal government under the bureau of public roads.

Eleven governors already have accepted invitations to attend the convention, several of whom will appear on the program. Many of the state executives will head large groups of delegates who plan to journey to Des Moines in motor caravans.

The governors who have notified Major J. A. Routree, Birmingham, Ala., director general of the association, who has established headquarters here for the convention, of their acceptance are:

Ben S. Paulen, Kansas; J. E. Erickson, Montana; Arthur G. Sorlie, North Dakota; Flem D. Sampson, Kentucky; John G. Richards, South Carolina; Adam McMullen, Nebraska; Bibb Graves, Alabama; H. H. Horton, Tennessee; W. J. Bulow, South Dakota; Harvey Parnell, Arkansas, and John Hammill of Iowa.

A farm measure is something generously offered the farmer with the assurance that the president will veto it.

Experience isn't always a good teacher. Even a bald house-holder will try year after year to remedy the bare spots on his lawn.

Senate Pushes Drive To Enact Tax Reduction

Administration-Insurgent Coalition Hopes For Enactment In 48 Hours

HOPE FOR VOTE BY SATURDAY

Corporation And Surtax Rates Prove Big Stumbling Blocks

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 11.—The administration-insurgent coalition launched a drive in the Senate today to enact their $203,000,000 tax reduction bill within 48 hours.

Two major bones of contention—the corporation and surtax rates—may prove a stumbling block to their program, as the Democrats will direct their greatest attack on the administration's recommendation for these taxes. All indications, however, point to a triumph for the administration, due to the new coalition with the Republican insurgents, who frequently have opposed them in the past.

Hope for Early Vote

The administration plan would reduce the corporation tax from 13 1-2 to 12 1-2 per cent, while the Democrats will fight for a 11 1-2 per cent tax, the same as enacted by the House. Both Republican and Democratic plans proposed a $25,000,000 slash on surtaxes, but their schedules differed radically. The House made no such reduction.

If these two rates can be settled without prolonged debate the tax bill probably will pass the Senate late tomorrow, being sent then to conference to iron out differences between the House and Senate. The Senate bill undoubtedly will limit tax reduction to around $203,000,000, whereas the House enacted a $289,000,000 cut.

The attitude of the Democrats in the battle so far has been in sharp contrast to that displayed by the administration-insurgent Republican alliance. The Democrats developed a real row within their own ranks over the produce exchange tax. The administration proposed to retain the existing tax of one cent on every $100 of trade. The Democratic members of the Senate finance committee recommended repeal of the entire tax.

When the item was considered by the Senate, Senator Caraway (D) of Arkansas proposed an increase of the tax from one cent to 50 cents on the ground that gamblers in cotton and grains were robbing the farmers and should be heavily taxed.

Colleagues Criticized

He criticized his Democratic colleagues for suggesting repeal of the tax. When Caraway was beaten by a vote of 27 to 47, he declared the "farmers have lost by a two to one vote when they sought protection from the gamblers."

A moment later a Democratic proposal to cut in half the two-cent tax on the sale and transfer of capital stocks was defeated and the tax retained by a vote of 48 to 29. On both these votes a number of Democrats followed Caraway in voting against the recommendations of their representatives on the finance committee. Such a repudiation has occurred but seldom in the past.

Democratic Plan Beaten.

A third Democratic plan to repeal the five-cent tax on new issues of capital stock was beaten 34 to 42. The Insurgents voted to a man with the Administration to retain this tax. Caraway and a handful of Democrats again voted against their colleagues. The Arkansas senator, in fact, indicated he would lead a revolt against the Democratic tax plan throughout the remainder of the bill's consideration.

One other potential battle may be avoided, through abandonment of the Mellon proposal to repeal the federal estate tax. It was because Administration leaders pledged themselves to retain this tax that the Insurgents joined in voting for the Administration bill. The only other large reduction proposed—the $65,000,000 repeal of the automobile tax—was endorsed by both Republicans and Democrats. It likewise was enacted by the House, so will not be a subject of debate in the senate.

Union High Juniors Banquet Seniors

Annual Junior-Senior Banquet At The Castleton, Last Evening

Sixty-six Juniors and Seniors of Union high school participated in the banquet and dance tendered by the Junior class to the Seniors at The Castleton, Thursday evening.

Wylie Schiek, president of the Junior class acted as toastmaster of the evening.

Marjorie Russel toasted the Seniors with an original poem and the response to the Juniors was made by Francis Mrozek. R. F. Conway, supervising principal of the Union township schools spoke on "The Ideal Class", Mrs. Carrie J. Roberts spoke on "The Other Side of the Question", L. H. Burnham spoke on "Lickins" while Miss Imogene Roach's subject was "Boys and Girls".

Decorations for the occasion were carried out in a combination of the two class colors, orchid and gold, the idea being evident in all the decorations, favors, menu cards and place cards. After the dinner, Mrs. R. F. Conway, wife of the principal, was presented with the floral centerpiece.

Following the banquet hour the evening was spent in dancing. The committee of arrangements consisted of Jack Mottinger, Erma Sontum, Maxine Anderson and Helen Jane Martin.

Circus Will Come To Public Library

Children's Department Will Use Sawdust Ring Decorations Next Week

When the circus comes to the city next week, one of the first stops that it will make will be at the Children's Department of the New Castle Public Library, states Miss Helen Minick, children's librarian.

Clowns, band, lions, tigers and the strange gnu, all will be there, and all will give a performance for the benefit of the small patrons of the library. Then there will be the strong man, the thin man, the fat woman, and the oriental dancers. Each will have a booth, and each will stand in front of his booth, demonstrating his prowess. There will be a snake charmer, a ringmaster, trapeze artists, and, best of all, a parade.

All of this will be on two tables at the library, surrounded with lists of circus stories. The parade will range about the walls, and will be led by the Prince of Laughter, followed by what the billings call "ponderous pachyderms," or words to that effect. Yes, the circus atmosphere will prevade the library next week.

Flock Of Funny Clowns Coming

Will Be Important Part Of Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus May 16

Fifty of the funniest clowns in existence will make their appearance in New Castle next Wednesday afternoon and night, when the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus comes for its annual exhibitions. Some of the noted "joeys" are Earl Shipley, Kinko, Dick Pinkney, Fred DeMarr, Roy McDonald, Pete Mardo, the Six Potters, Buster Castle, Bill Scott and George Cook and his funny phord. Four little midget clowns, just arrived from Europe will also extract laughs from the children and their elders.

Hagenbeck-Wallace clowns have always been noted for their clean comedy and their up-to-date stunts. This year the "joeys" have bettered their averages and have some of the best rib-ticklers and smile producers that have ever been introduced on a circus track. A fool's convention is the proper name for this gang of "Merry Andrews".

Council Passes Paving Ordinances At Meeting

Heated Discussion Over Project Of Paving South Ellwood Heights Street

Many Matters Come Before Council At Session On Thursday Evening

ELLWOOD CITY, May 11.—At the regular monthly meeting of the borough council which took place Thursday evening in the newly-decorated city hall, several paving ordinances were passed.

The ordinances were introduced by Councilman Duncan and passed as follows:

For the paving of First avenue from Bridge to Gregg streets, property owners to stand two-thirds of the costs, passed on first reading; also paving of Park avenue from West Short street to Sixth street, and West Short street from Crescent avenue to Park avenue.

The last ordinance to be read was one asking for the borough to pay one-third of the cost of paving Connoquenessing Terrace on the Pittsburgh company plan of lots known as South Ellwood Heights. This ordinance caused a heated discussion among the councilmen, some stating that a previous proposition had been presented stating that the Pittsburgh company promised to stand full cost of the paving. Facts were made known that that property had been paying taxes into the borough since 1892 and had as much right to paving as streets nearer the traffic. A communication from the Pittsburgh company dated July 7, 1927, revealed the fact that the company solicited the aid of the borough to specify the type of paving and to draw up plans, etc. A later resolution was produced which stated that abutting property owners should not be assessed. Ray Aylesworth, as official of the company was present, and stated that the reason that action had not been taken on the recent recommendation was because the road bed was in no shape to pave, and no terms could be agreed upon with the borough engineer at that time. The vote was finally taken and the ordinance was lost by a count of six to five.

Petitions.

Property-owners asked for a street light to be placed at the corner of Ellwood and College avenues. Petition was referred to the electric light committee with power to act.

Property owners abutting Center avenue between Tenth and Thirteenth on Center asked for paving improvements, stating they were willing to stand their share of the expense. This was referred to the street committee for a report laetr.

Property owners between Hillside avenue and Fifth street asked for the construction of a sanitary sewer which will connect later with the main disposal pipes. This was referred to the sewer committee and borough manager.

A communication was received from W. F. Kegel, chairman of the publicity committee of the Community Chest drive for 1928, stating that a parade and other special features would be staged the Saturday preceding the opening of the drive, and members of council and other officials of the city were asked to participate in the parade. This communication was received and placed on file.

An invitation was also received to participate in a parade to be in progress here on Memorial Day. This was received and placed on file. Council later voted to appropriate $250 to donate to the Memorial Day committee, as suggested by members of the finance committee.

Ordinances.

Recommended by Coates and Kennedy: Construction of a sanitary sewer on First street west of Cedar way, entire cost being placed on abutting property owners. Passed on first reading.

Also a sanitary sewer from Fifth street 220 feet on Hillside avenue, cost on property owners. Passed on first reading.

An ordinance establishing the taxes for 1928 levied as follows: General fund, 10 2-3 mills; sinking fund, 3 mills; library fund, 1-3 mill. Rules of council were suspended and the ordinance was passed on second and final reading.

An ordinance providing for the collection of garbage by the city, and prohibiting individuals from dumping refuse within the city, except at some designated place, and placing the charge at $6 per year for first floor collections, $7 for second floor collections and $8 for third floor collections, was passed on second and final reading by suspension of rules of council.

Rules and Regulations.

Requested approval of council by the rules and regulations committee for having the city building re-decorated at a cost of $250 by George Fye and company. This was approved.

Also the approval of turning the former borough stables into a garage for cars of officials. This also was approved.

Finance Body.

Members of the finance committee recommended that the sum of $10,000 be transferred from the electric light fund for the purpose of establishing a nucleus for a sinking fund, which has never actually been maintained here. This fund will be for the purpose of repairing and replacing worn equipment.

Council also approved the recommendation of the finance committee asking that $2,000 be appropriated for the use of the public playgrounds committee.

Members of the police committee recommended that the mushroom light be removed at the corner of Fifth and Lawrence avenue, and traffic guards be placed. This request was granted.

Members of the electric light committee refused to reduce the electric rates of a local theatre owner, stating that the rate was not excessive in comparison to other municipalities. They also requested that traffic lights be placed at the corner of Center and Tenth, Wampum and North and Ellwood and College.

A CLOSE SHAVE

When Brown arrived at the station he found he had 20 minutes to spare before his train was due to start.

So, having bought a ticket and seen to the labeling of his luggage, he dashed across the road to a barber shop, seated himself in a chair, and demanded a hasty shave.

But the barber was a man whom nothing could hurry—a melancholy mortal, who despite Brown's protests applied the brush in so slow and deliberate a manner that the luckless traveler found himself confronted with one of two horrible alternatives—to miss his train or take his seat in it with a face covered with soap.

"Do hurry," pleaded Brown.

But the barber paid no heed. He continued lathering.

At last Brown could stand it no longer. He seized his tormentor's hand, and, "For pity's sake," he cried, "hold that brush still; I'll wriggle my head."

Scholarship Letters Will Be Awarded At Shenango School

Awarding the letters to scholars for scholastic attainment for the first time in the county will be made by the Shenango Township High school, according to a decision made by the faculty of the school recently.

Although letters have been given for years to pupils for attainment in athletics, it has not been the custom to award letters for attainment in classes. So says Claire Book, supervising principal of the Shenango Township schools, the faculty has decided that ability in the chief purpose of the school should be awarded.

Thus, on May 25th, the closing day of the school year, several boys and girls of the Township High school will be awarded letters for ability in their classes along with the letters won by the track and baseball athletes.

The letter to be awarded is to be a five inch full block letter in blue and gold. The letter will be slightly smaller than the letter given for athletic attainment so that it may be suitable to be worn by both boys and girls to whom it will be awarded.

Mr. Book says that he believes that more recognition should be given for scholastic attainment and in the Shenango school they are endeavoring to emphasize on that fact. Although the rules of the county athletic association will allow a person to take part in an athletic contest if they fail in one subject they have made it a rule in their school that no one can take part in a contest if they fail in any subject.

School Children Found Suffering From Ear Defects

(International News Service)

BERKELEY, Cal., May 11.—Eighty out of every 1000 school children have a hearing impairment of some kind. Fifteen of these eighty hard-of-hearing children are incurable cases of progressive deafness.

And in order to cope with the problem the University of California today announced a course on "Methods of Teaching Lip Reading to Hard-of-Hearing Children" to be offered during summer session.

"Children threatened with deafness should be given lessons in lip reading and aided to a superior efficiency in their school work," said Miss Agnes Stowell who will have charge of the course. "Thus, as their hearing diminishes their training in lip reading will enable them to carry on their studies easily and well."

SPRING BRINGS JOY TO WELL PEOPLE

You Can Have Energy and Vim Instead of Aches and Pains by Using World's Tonic

People live close to the fire in Winter. They must eat rich foods, and they don't always breathe pure air. They often put too much of a strain on their systems. As a result, when Spring comes, often they are full of the poisons of malaria, catarrh, and indigestion. That is why they need a Spring medicine.

If we could tell you all that thousands of people have told us, you would realize that World's Tonic has done such people an inestimable amount of good. It clears out the waste matter, corrects the catarrh, and tones up the digestion. It aids nature to make the rich blood that means vitality, and energy. It puts vim into every act, makes muscles springy and strong, renews the tired body, and makes you glad Spring is at hand.

Don't be miserable this spring. Get a bottle of World's Tonic at Paisley's, McKee's Kute Rate Store, Smith's, Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc. or of any reliable druggist. (269)

Knapp Juror Is Haled To Court, Claim Contempt

Juror Who Admits Prejudice In Recent Trial Is Haled Before Court Today

ALBANY REPORTER UNCOVERS CHARGE

(International News Service)

COURTROOM, ALBANY, N. Y., May 11.—Charged with contempt of court, David R. Main, one of six jurors who voted to acquit former secretary of state, Florence E. S. Knapp of a charge of stealing census funds, today was haled before Supreme Court Justice Stephen Callaghan. The contempt charge was lodged against Main by George Z. Medalie, special deputy attorney general who is prosecuting Mrs. Knapp.

Main is alleged to have said he would not vote to convict Mrs. Knapp because District Attorney Charles J. Herrick of Albany, had said that evidence was not sufficient to convict her. Main was represented by former Judge Isadore Bookstein.

In asking Justice Callaghan to hold Main in contempt, Medalie said, "He made answers which he knew were false when he was being examined as a prospective juror. He misled us or he would not have been accepted as a juror. By his false answers he showed a complete disregard for law and order."

Robert R. Reeves, a reporter on the Albany Evening News, was then called and he testified that Main had told him of the influence of Herrick.

Five Lackawanna County Election Boards Indicted

Lackawanna County Grand Jury Continues Investigation Of Election Frauds

(International News Service)

SCRANTON, Pa., May 11.—With five election boards already indicted on charges of violating the election laws and conspiracy, the Lackawanna county grand jury today continued its investigation of alleged fraud in the primary in two Winton wards, a district in Carbondale and the fourth district of the Second ward here.

Indictments against the members of boards in the first and second districts of the Third ward in Scranton, and the First, Second and Third wards in Mayfield were returned after the grand jury had made a partial report to Judge George W. Maxey.

Judge Maxey announced that a special panel of criminal court jurors may be drawn to try the 25 board members during the summer term.

The election officers are alleged to have stuffed ballot boxes in behalf of candidates for representative in the general assembly.

COUNCIL SECURES NEW G.M.C. TRUCK

Will Be Used By City Department Of Engineers In Work

Councilmen today bought from the Lawrence Auto company a new six-cylinder G. M. C. truck at a cost of $800 for use in the department of engineers.

The motion was offered by Reeves, seconded by Davies and the mayor and Councilman Burns voted aye.

There were several other bids and Councilman Burns in voting said he believed he was voting against his better judgment.

Councilman Reeves then explained to Mr. Burns that the new truck was best in his opinion.

Universal Sales Co. offered a truck for $553.33; Lawrence Auto Co., a used truck for $635; A. C. McCoy Co., bid $632 and Foster Bros, $873.

Woman's Club To Plant Trees In West Side Park

Trees To Be Dedicated To Mrs. David Dickey and Mrs. S. E. McCleary

Under the auspices of the Civic committee of the Woman's Club of New Castle, of which Mrs. Irving Brown is chairman, two trees will be planted, in the West Side Park, on or about May 25.

The one tree will be planted in memory of Mrs. David Dickey, and the other in honor of Mrs. Samuel E. McCleary of Willard avenue. Both of these women were charter members of the Circle of '89, which became the Woman's Club of New Castle, about five years ago, and were always prominent club women, and active workers in all civic enterprises.

This little park where the trees are to be planted formerly was owned by the grandfather of Samuel E. McCleary now deceased, who came here in 1808 and purchased a large tract of land on the west side. Even at this early date he realized the need of public parks, and donated this land to be used by the people of the community. As no definite name has ever been attached to the park, Mrs. McCleary is anxious that it be known as "McCleary Square" which would indeed be a fitting tribute to the man whose generosity made possible this spot of beauty.

T. T. McCleary, son of Mrs. Samuel E. McCleary, who is superintendent of the Braddock schools will be here for the dedication services.

Acomplete program of the services and the exact date will be announced later.

Miss Ruth Brown Wins Tennis Match

Tennis Match Is Played Off Thursday Evening In Y. W. C. A.

The Indoor Tennis tournament of the Y. W. C. A. is far surpassing the tourney of last year in interest and playing ability. Many of the matches are excellent.

Thursday evening a very speedy match was played off between Floy Owens and Ruth Brown. Both girls are players of more than usual ability. Miss Owens excelling in her whirlwind serve and Miss Brown in her power of returning balls. Miss Brown had the lead in the first set with fair opposition from her opponent but not as keen oposition as Miss Owens has been seen to put forth.

However in the second set Miss Owens came into her own and staged some real playing force which made the outcome of the second set very doubtful. So many of Miss Owens' return balls landed out of bounds which probaby had some effect on the final score. Ruth Brown is to be complimented on her rapid advance in the sport having started only this year.

Score, first set, 6-3, Brown.

Score, first set 6-3, Brown; second set, 11-9, Brown.

This afternon at 5:15 a much anticipated match is scheduled between Miss Mary Tewell and Mrs. Eileen Stone. Next Monday evening beginning at 6 p. m. matches will be played off throughout the evening. All welcome no admission fee.

Bank In New Castle Named As Executor And Trustee Of Estate

By the will of Wilson M. Phillips, prominent East Lackawannock, Mercer county man and farmer, the Salvation Army of America will receive the bulk of his estate, which it is estimated will reach approximately $75,000, when a final accounting is made of all his holdings, which includes both real estate and stocks and bonds. Pleasant cemetery in East Lackawannock township for the upkeep of the family grave plot known as the Isaac Phillips grave plot, he bequeaths to the Salvation Army all the remainder and residue of his estate.

He also provides that the partnership which was carried on by himself and brother, B. R. Phillips, shall be continued by his brother during his time, or as long as he desires.

The Lawrence Savings and Trust company of New Castle, is made executor and trustee of the estate, and James A. Stranahan, Jr., of Mercer, the attorney. The will was written on October, 1919, and Phillips died April 7th, of the present year.

Confirm Death Of Woman Missionary In Tsinan Rioting

Report Fails To State Whether Victim's Husband Was Also Killed By Chinese

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 11.—The death of Mrs. W. T. Hobart, Methodist missionary to China, who was killed on April 29 during fighting at Tainafu, has been confirmed by a cablegram received here by the Methodist Episcopal board of foreign missions, according to an announcement today from Dr. William B. Towers of the board.

The cablegram did not state whether Dr. W. T. Hobart, the victim's husband, escaped. Mrs. Hobart was killed by bullets fired through the windows of the mission station by Chinese soldiers, according to the cablegram. Dr. Hobart is believed to have been in Tainfu at the same time.

There was a block on the street car line, the cars would go a few yards and then stop. Finally, during a considerable standstill, a passanger got discouraged and said to his companion: "I think we'll get on better if we get off and walk."

The Pageant Of Palms

Brass Tacks On The Sunday School Lesson

BY DR. ALVIN E. BELL

Repeatedly through his public ministry Jesus has put a damper on the publicity that might have been his; now, in this pageant of palms with which he began the last week of his life, he seems deliberately to set the stage for a demonstration which would give the widest possible publicity to his claims to kingship. Previous to this when the people tried to take him by force and make him their king, he hid himself from them, but now he welcomes this demonstration which points to his royalty.

The Pageant Prophesied

This entire pageant of palms which we call Palm Sunday was foretold five hundred years before by the prophet Zachariah: "Rejoice greatly, O daughter of Zion: shout, O daughter of Jerusalem: behold, thy king cometh unto thee: he is just and having salvation: lowly, and riding upon an ass, and upon a colt the foal of an ass." Palm Sunday fulfilled this ancient prophesy in every detail; the humble colt instead of a charging war-horse or chariot, the hasannas of simple peasants who bore neither sword nor spear, but only palm branches, symbols of peace. Truly, this is a peculiar king—this is the Prince of Peace.

Withered Palms

It is interesting to try to imagine how the King, who knew what was in men, regarded these acclamations of the crowd. He must have known that many of that throng who were singing "Hosannas" that day would be shouting "crucify him" just five days later with the mob that would rush him away to Calvary's cross. Their loyalty withered as quickly as the withering palm branches with which they strewed the raod from Jericho to Jerusalem. But the pageant of palms, empty as it was of abiding loyalty on the part of many who participated, nevertheless, served its purpose in the King's program.

The Result of The Pageant

It called the attention of the nation to his claims to messiahship as Isreal's long expected successor to King David and gave a clear challenge to accept him as king or reject him. It brought things quickly to a head as his enemies realized the tremendous wave of popularity sweeping everything before this humble Galilean teacher to their discrediting and his enthronement in the people's heart.

The Cleansing of The Temple

If the religious authorities were jealous of Jesus' popularity on Palm Sunday they were given added reason to be incensed the next day when he came into the temple and saw how they had turned the court of the gentiles into a place of merchandise, and showed his royal authority by making a scourge of cords and "cast out them that sold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of the money-changers, and the seats of them that sold doves, saying unto them, My house shall be called of all nations the house of prayer, but ye have made it a den of thieves."

Our Palms and Hosannas

No greater mistake can be made in the teaching of this lesson than to spend our time "giving it to the Jews," which has been the favorite in-door sport of many Christians for many centuries. We must apply the lesson to ourselves individually and to the church of today. How many churches have become "houses of merchandise" among us! Of how much more value are our "Hosannas" and our professions of loyalty to Christ our King? Our broken vows and lapsed church memberships are the withered palms that strew the King's highway in 1928. One day we sing "Crown him with many crowns," and another day our lives disclose that some of our crowns are made of thorns.

(The International Uniform Lesson for May 13 is Mark 11:1-3, the subject being "Jesus Enters Jerusalem," and the Golden Text, Zechariah 9:9, 'Behold, thy king cometh unto thee: he is just and having salvation.")

Early Agreement On Farm Measure Now Looked For

Senate And House Conferees Agree Upon Compromise Today

COOLIDGE LIKELY TO APPROVE BILL

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 11.—An early agreement on conflicting provisions of the McNary-Haugen Farm Relief bill was predicted today following a compromise between senate and house conferees on some important provisions.

Senate Conferees, it was learned, yielded to the house restrictions on the power of advisory councils set up to advise the proposed Federal Farm Board in handling surplus crops. The house provision requires consent of the council before the equalization fee is levied, but removed many restrictions on the Federal Board which said to be objected to by President Coolidge last year.

Heeding protests of co-operative heads of the Middle West, the house managers yielded to an amendment reducing the "cooperative boosting fund" from $2,000,000 to $1,000,000.

Mid-West farm organizers had complained that the $2,000,000 would constitute a "slush fund" under which the Federal Farm Board could boost favored cooperatives and revive others which had failed because of poor management.

After Campbell and Reilly were killed, it was reported that gunmen had been imported to take their lives.

Mr. Sigler claims that his machine merely touched the Trick machine while they were waiting for the green light and that it would not have been possible to injure any person in the Trick car.

Labor Delegates To Elect Officers By Ballot Today

Delegates To Labor Convention Ballot This Afternoon On New Officials

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, May 11.—The "save the union" faction and the left-wing group of the State Federation of Labor delegates led by John S. Otis of Pittsburgh prolonged the discussion of resolutions at the forenoon session of the labor convention today, thus prohibiting balloting on the various candidates for office.

Otis launched into a long attack against the Pennsylvania-Ohio miners' relief committee and the conditions in the soft coal area of western Pennsylvania and Ohio. The delegates were held long past the luncheon hour.

After a brief recess the balloting on the three presidential candidates, Congressman John Casey of Wilkes-Barre, John A. Phillips of Philadelphia and Otis, was to take place.

The election is a toss-up between Casey and Phillips, labor observers say.

Presidential Race Not Expected To Hamper Business Says Steel Magnate

(Special To The News)

Schwab said the steel business in this country continues good and he still is optimistic.

Threaten Violence To Bank Wreckers, Taken To Atlanta

Depositors In West Virginia Bank Crash Threaten Lives Of Guilty Officials

(International News Service)

WHEELING, W. Va., May 11.—A "tip" that the Ohio county jail was to be blown up in an effort to kill John Brandon, 50, and J. A. Brandon, Jr., 46, convicted bank fund manipulators of New Cumberland, W. Va., caused the two men to be secretly removed last night and started for Federal Penitentiary at Atlanta in automobiles it was learned today.

United States Marshal Harry Weiss was informed that secret society members who lost their life savings when the First National Bank of Cumberland failed had vowed vengeance on the Brandons. They were sentenced to serve 10 years each at Atlanta after pleading guilty to wrecking the bank, in Federal court here.

The two Brandons had been hiding since the bank closed and appeared in court unexpectedly, asking that sentence be imposed at once as their lives had been threatened.

NEW YORK, May 11.—A gruesome recital of cold-blooded murder left spectators breathless today in general sessions, where Major Cecil Clyde Campbell, 43-year-old veteran of the army air service, is on trial for his life.

Flight Over City Enthuses Mayor

"Would Like To Fly Every Day" He Declares After Trip

"I would like to fly every day" was the statement of Mayor William H. Gillespie, when interviewed this afternoon, after taking a trip up in the sky in the Kegarise Air Transport Company plane with Lieutenant Sherman as pilot and with R. R. Kegarise in the passenger seat with him.

"It's simply fine" continued the mayor". There is not much sensation to it and it was decidedly pleasant this morning. The salling was almost entirely free from bumps, although there were a few.

"Everything is flat. At least that is the way it appears from the air. There are no hills, tall buildings or anything like that. In fact it is like looking at a nicely arranged plan or drawing.

"I was able to locate my home, the court house, the high school and all the prominent buildings of the city. I discovered one thing and that is that you cannot talk up in the air. It's too noisy."

The trip was made about the city and return to the field, the mayor being up several minutes.

Improve Grounds At Shenango School

School Boys Volunteer Service In Planting Hedge And Shrubbery

Thirty-six of the high school boys of Shenango Township High school volunteered their services one afternoon this week and made a great improvement on the school grounds in the planting of shrubbery.

The boys worked like beavers all afternoon and dug a 175 foot trench and planted a hedge of spiraea or bridal wreath on the three sides of the building and several banks of Hydrangea and Rose of Sharon.

The shrubbery for the improvement was purchased from the proceeds of the sale of seeds by the students during the winter and late spring. The boys and the whole school have shown much enthusiasm and community spirit in the improvement of the grounds.

The men of the district in line with the community spirit shown by the students are planning to volunteer their services of teams and tractors and labor in the completion of the grading of the grounds and the sowing of the lawn grass. It is said that they will enter into the work as soon as the burden of the spring work is done on the farms.

League Of Nations To Take Up Study Of Polar Regions

(International News Service)

LONDON, May 11.—The fate of the 10,000 or 12,000 whales believed still to exist, mostly in the Antarctic Ocean, may be largely determined by a sub-committee of the League of Nations now sitting at Geneva.

Consisting of four members, the sub-committee is examining possible means for the preservation of sea fauna. Great Britain, Norway and other powers having interests in the whaling industry are not in favor of having regulations by international agreement, but the proposal to preserve the whale is supported by 21 members of the League.

The urgent need for protection of the whale has often been emphasized. The modern whaler, with its numerous up-to-date methods has brought the whaling trade to what amounts almost to "wholesale butchery," in the words of one of the members of the committee.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

By J. Carroll Mansfield

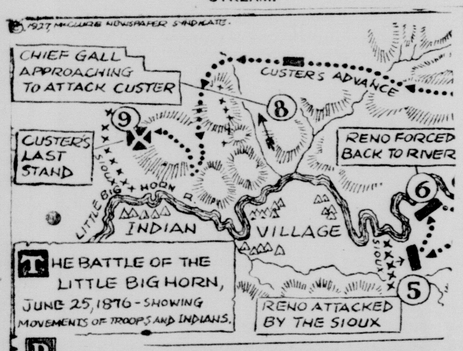

Custer's Last Campaign—Part V
The Battle Of The Little Big Horn

IN THE EARLY AFTERNOON OF JUNE 25, 1876, MAJOR MARCUS RENO, WITH A BATTALION OF CUSTER'S SEVENTH CAVALRY, CROSSED THE LITTLE BIG HORN RIVER AND RODE DOWN THE VALLEY TO ATTACK THE SIOUX VILLAGE OF SITTING BULL. THE INDIANS WERE AT FIRST PANIC-STRICKEN AT THE SIGHT OF THE "LONG-SWORDS", BUT, SEEING THAT RENO'S FORCE WAS SMALL, THEY QUICKLY RALLIED, AND SWEPT DOWN UPON THE WHITE SOLDIERS LIKE A WHIRLWIND.

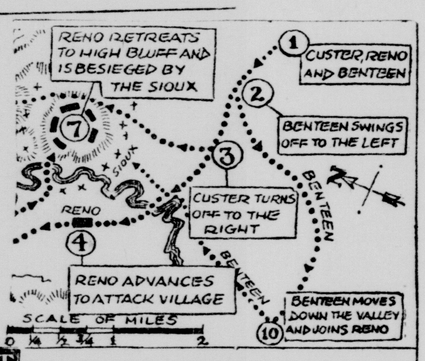

RENO'S "REES" (INDIAN SCOUTS), WHO HELD THE LEFT OF HIS LINE, SCATTERED AT THE FIRST ONSLAUGHT OF THE SIOUX, AND FLED IN TERROR, WHILE THE TROOPERS, FIGHTING BRAVELY, WERE FORCED BACK TOWARDS THE RIVER BANK, WHERE THEY MADE A GALLANT STAND IN THE LOW TIMBER THAT FRINGED THE STREAM.

THE BATTLE OF THE LITTLE BIG HORN, JUNE 25, 1876 - SHOWING MOVEMENTS OF TROOPS AND INDIANS.

BY LEADING A DETERMINED CHARGE AGAINST THE HOSTILES, RENO MIGHT HAVE SAVED THE DAY, BUT HE HAD MADE THE BLUNDER OF DISMOUNTING HIS MEN WHEN HE WAS ATTACKED. FINALLY, RENO LOST HIS HEAD COMPLETELY, AND ORDERED HIS MEN TO RETREAT UP THE VALLEY TO A HIGH BLUFF ON THE OTHER SIDE OF THE RIVER.

THIS CHANGE OF POSITION WAS MADE IN GREAT DISORDER. RENO'S MEN FORDED THE RIVER AND CLIMBED THE STEEP BANK UNDER A HEAVY FIRE AND PURSUED BY THE SIOUX. THE TROOPERS REACHED THE TOP OF THE BLUFF WITH A LOSS OF 32 KILLED, 15 MISSING AND A NUMBER BADLY WOUNDED.

NEW CASTLE PLAYS AKRON SATURDAY

New Castle Has Defeated Vaughn

Rubber City Pitcher May Get Chance To Redeem Himself

TEXTOR MAY PICK UNDERWOOD TO PITCH

George Textor and his aggregation of local O. & P. ball players will meet Akron for the second time this season when they clash Saturday afternoon at Centennial field. To date New Castle holds the edge, having captured the only game which has been played between the teams.

During the past week the New Castle team has undergone a radical change, McKay, Zwoder and Hughes having been dropped. Slim Underwood, a hurler, has been signed and in his only appearance turned in a victory.

Wednesday the Homestead Grays recorded a victory over New Castle, but Akron is not as strong as the Grays outfit and it is probable that Vaughn will be in the box for the rubber city team. He is anxious to atone for his defeat Sunday.

As yet it is not known if Textor will send Underwood to the box, but it is a certainty that he will use the hurler who shows up best, in the hope of taking a second victory for the local club from Akron.

The game will start at 3:15 p. m.

AKRON TO USE KNELL ON HILL

Akron Said To Be Much Stronger Than Canton

Akron is coming.

Due here Saturday.

The Centennials will be ready.

Akron is said to have a strong club.

Joe Knell has been picked to hurl here.

It is not known whom George Textor will use.

Oh, well, a good game is in prospect anyway.

Clim Underwood, however, appears to be choice.

It is said that Akron is anxious to beat New Castle.

Almost every team in the O.-P. league is anxious to do this.

The fans who trot to the game will see some new faces in the lineup.

Leonard will be one new face and if Underwood hurls he will be another.

The game will start at 3:15 p. m.

Last Saturday attendance was poor.

Perhaps sunshine will change the situation.

George Textor knows his stuff and is ready to go the limit.

Fans would like to see Sank McCullough kiss the ball on the nose like he did last Saturday.

Watch those throws from third and short to first when Akron batters lam the pill.

Let's go.

Martin on the mound for the Christians weakened after hitting a double and was relieved by Lewis. The Epworth team tallied their three runs in the fourth inning by bunching hits. Martin and Bentley had the only extra-base hits. Bentley robbed Garrity of a triple with a circus catch in centerfield.

Tennis Alphabet—A

By Feg Murray

The Alphas of the tennis world are numerous, and, even though the letter comes last in the name "U. S. L. T. A." (United States Lawn Tennis Association), nevertheless the A's have come first in many an important tournament. Recently two of the clan of A have come to the front in indoor and intercollegiate tournaments. Bill Aydelotte winning the national indoor crown last winter and Wilmer Allison taking the intercollegiate title back to Texas last fall. Allison was a member of the United States Davis cup team that invaded Mexico so successfully in April.

Manuel Alonso, the fleet Spaniard, has long been a dashing and spectacular figure on American courts. He has scored notable victories over ranking American players including Bill Tilden and has won many important tournaments.

The tribe of Anderson is well represented on the tennis courts, J. O. Anderson, the Australian Davis Cup player is the most famous of all. He helped with the Davis Cup from England in 1919 and in 1922 and 1923 tried unsuccessfully to win it from the United States, defeating William Johnston in a fierce five-set match in 1922. Other Andersons are Fred G. and his son Fred C., national father and son champions for several years.

Fred B. Alexander long played a prominent part in U. S. tennis history and ranked in the first ten off and on from 1904 to 1914.

Among the ladies, Senorita Alvarez of Spain is the most prominent, while Cecile Aussem of Germany is looked upon as a "second Suzanne Lenglen" by many European critics.

Tavener Only Detroit Tiger Used To Playing On Many Flag Winners

By JACK SORDS
Sport Cartoonist-Writer for Central Press and New Castle News.

The one thing the Detroit Tigers wish they could get infected with is the Tavener complex.

Before joining the Bengals, which make their homes in the wilds of Michigan, Johnny Tavener, their abbreviated shortstop, had never played on a team other than a pennant winner.

Johnny broke in with the Columbia club of the Sally circuit in 1921. He immediately set about trying to do his "durndest" in helping bring a pennant to that town—and he succeeded.

So outstanding was Johnny's work in that South Atlantic race that the Tigers bought him before the season closed, but his first try in the big time was short and he was dropped to Fort Worth in the Texas league.

For three years thereafter Johnny labored with Jake Atz's Fort Worth Panthers and in those three years the Cats won three pennants.

Again the Tigers bought Johnny and this time he hung on. He became a Tiger regular, but, alas, his string of four straight pennants was broken. The Tigers couldn't click.

Tavener was born in Celina, O., in 1898, which makes him pretty close to the 30-year mark if not past it. At that, he should last a few years more, at least. There isn't much of him to slow up and get tired and he takes excellent care of the small mechanism which is his body.

Johnny is one of the real half-pints of baseball, and one of the smallest men in the major leagues. He is only five and one-half feet in height and tips the scales at 140 pounds.

Bunion Derby Runners Have Long Laps Ahead

By LELAND C. LEWIS
I. N. S. Special Correspondent.

WAUSEON, O., May 11.—C. C. "Cross Country" Pyle's bunion derby is thus far not in the habit of pausing to read the scriptures, but many mused this morning over the line "and only the strong shall survive."

Today's jaunt for the caravan of callouses for a 58-mile trek from Wauseon to Fremont after skirting Toledo enroute. This lap, long in itself, was to be followed with an additional 58 miles tomorrow to Elyria. With the increased daily mileage, men who have been "dark horses" continued their assault upon the time margins of the leaders.

Peter Gavuzzi, heading the big parade with an elapsed time of 430:24:21 for 2,264.6 miles to Wauseon, saw his edge over Andrew Payne, youthful Oklahoman, cut to three hours, 45 minutes, 20 seconds, when an ulcerated tooth cost him two hours, 24 minutes, 3 seconds.

John Salo, third place man, paced the field Thursday through the 44.9 miles from Butler, Ind., in 5:59:59, 58 minutes, 13 seconds ahead of Payne, Louis Perrella, Albany, N. Y., and Phillip Granville of Hamilton, Ont., who tied for second.

Gavuzzi was 22nd for the day in 9:22:15. Many of the late arrivals here battled through miles of rain that made going over the highway slow and hazardous.

Kenneth Campbell of Ranger, Texas, was forced out of the grind Thursday, shortly after he passed the 2,600-mile mark, by bad arches.

With 112 miles on tap within a two-day period, Referee Red Grange predicted that the field would be materially reduced before the runners reached Cleveland, Sunday.

"The fellows have a fighting heart now that is hard to down," Grange said. "Speed is the thing that counts now and all of the men know that they will be dropped at the least show of indifference. The midnight zero hour will be strictly enforced and those who fail to check in will receive their hundred dollars transportation deposit and be on their way home within a few hours."

Ed Gardner, Seattle sheik, who, in three days, with the handicap of a shin splint, dropped from fifth to tenth position, required 12:46:35 for yesterday's lap, but was still optimistic of his chances. His elapsed time is 499:10:53.

Swimmers Dine At Y. M. C. A. On Thursday Night

Ben Franklin High Swimmers Have Banquet; Edwin H. Geasa Is Chairman

Fifty persons, 40 of them youthful swimmers of Ben Franklin Junior High school, dined on chicken and mashed potatoes at the Y. M. C. A. on Thursday night. The event was in charge of Edwin H. Geasa, swimming instructor at Franklin High.

The banquet was a big success from every standpoint. First, the meal was delicious and satisfied the appetite completely, and second, there was but one speaker. Dr. C. C. Green, city superintendent of schools, was the only speaker called upon, and he delivered a talk, encouraging swimming in the school curriculum, and urged more persons to take up swimming and life-saving.

The guest list included the student swimmers, both boys and girls, who have earned their letters this year, members of the junior life-saving corps, and the following specially invited guests: Dr. C. C. Green, Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Burton, Coach Leroi Norton, Jack Hulmes, Miss Maude Wetmore, Robert Dobbs and Charles "Bugs" Walther.

Following the banquet the entire group of swimmers were guests of Herbert Peairs, mannager of the movie, "The Dove".

MICKIE SOLOMON KAYOES KILRAIN

Mickie Solomon, 145 pounder of New Castle, stopped Joe Kilrain in the fifth round at McKeesport last night when the referee gave the fight to Solomon on a technical knockout.

Solomon put Kilrain to the floor four times and was in the lead all the way, according to his manager, Ed. Weygant.

Johnny Pollock lost a six round decision to Frankie Moran and in another bout Phil Scello lost to Larry Brignolia.

Grove City Track Season Will Open

GROVE CITY, Pa., May 11.—The Grove City college track team will open the season here Saturday in a dual meet with Geneva college on the local athletic field. The Crimson tracksters were scheduled to meet Carnegie Tech several weeks ago but were forced to cancel due to inclement weather. Stiff practice sessions under Coaches McEuen and Burrowes have developed the local team to such form that will furnish strong opposition to Geneva.

Walter Hagen Leads British Open Tourney

Debonair American Golfer Finishes 54 Holes Stroke To Good

By FRANK A. WRAY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

SANDWICH, Eng., May 11.—Walter Hagen, bronzed, debonair invader from America, mustered one of his typical rushes from the rear to shoot a 72 and take a one-stroke lead over Jose Jurado of the Argentine in the third round of the British open golf championship today.

With only 18 holes between him and a third victory in the open, Hagen topped the early field with a gross of 220 for fifth four holes. Jurado, shooting a 37-39—76 this morning, his worst round of the tournament, had an aggregate of 221 and seemed to be about to do what expert opinion had predicted—blow on the final day.

Hagen's lead came as a direct result of a remarkable 33 on the outgoing nine, two under par. A 39 coming in was all that saved Hagen from a record-breaking round. Bill Mehlhorn, another American, was in third place at this point with 225, the result of a 76 this morning. Meantime Gene Sarazen, tied at 148 with Hagen at the start of the round, had gone to the turn in a sparkling 34.

Athletics Displaying Punch With Bat, Are League Sensations

Forty-One Runs Batted In By Connie Mack's Team In Past Five Games

First Time In Fourteen Years That Athletics Have Shown Real Class

By DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service

NEW YORK, May 11.—There seems to be nothing for it but to open the attar of roses today and sprinkle its essence over the physical sub-division known as Connie Mack. He is entitled to something special right out of the neck of the bottle for what he has done, or seems to have done, for, with and to the Philadelphia Athletics of 1928.

The Apathetics, a sardonic soul called them once. But that was some years ago when they were endeavoring to recover from their 1915 debacle and were playing class ABC ball during the process. Today they are about as apathetic as the Wall Street explosion.

Forty-one runs in their last five games, an average of eight! Sixty-seven hits, an average of more than thirteen! That's apathy, provided you think St. Vitus was maybe a bit to stolid for England's standing army. The Athletics are the only club in either major league that has lost but one game since April 18. They have won 11 in the meantime for a percentage of .917 and, if someone doesn't stop them soon, the American League race is due to be closer than a coat of paint, Yankees or no Yankees.

Athletics Are Strong

The immediate answer is that, for the first time since 1914, Connie Mack seems to have marshaled all the forces that go into the creation of a winning combination—hitting, pitching, reasonably fair defense behind the pitcher and the will to win.

The outfit had hitting in 1926 and 1927, but the pitchers didn't have much beyond the right idea. But today Grove and Walberg are standing up like a best man, and lately Rommel and Quinn have begun to show signs of human life. Of course, everybody is winning with a club that plays at the rate of .917 over a period of three weeks, but the boys have been very particular about the number of runs they allow, anyhow.

Over the last five-game stretch the opposition, which happened to be the Detroit Tigers and the St. Louis Browns, averaged less than three runs a game, which, like the four-cent nickel, isn't quite enough. The Browns had gone well in Washington; the Tigers were perking up in the West and in Boston. Maybe you think it isn't possible to perk down. But I know it is, because that is what the Browns and Tigers did in Philadelphia during the last seven days.

Some of our best second guessers are hastening now to point out that Mack kicked one all over the premises when he let Sam Gray get away from that pitching staff. He certainly could use Gray's six out of seven. But the fact is that he is finding some use for the .403 batting average of the man who figured in the Gray trade, Bing Miller. This worthy, always a natty spring hitter, has been nothing short of a windfall, what with Simmons out of the game and those base hits ricocheting off the concrete. He has been the punch of a great attack that today musters a club average of .312.

There is nothing particularly the matter with Sam Hale's .365 nor Cobb's .355, nor yet Hauser's lengthy hitting in the pinches. Even Speaker has lifted his average to .360 during the general excitement.

So, let him who is without sense among you cast the first stone at Mr. C. Mack. Even then, I don't think he really ought to throw it unless he is absolutely certain that the stone is a genuine solitaire.

Babe Ruth Hits Seventh Homer

Seventh Circuit Clout By Ruth Helps Yankees Down Cleveland, 4 To 2

By LES CONKLIN,
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, May 11.—The ineffectiveness of Ray Kremer, once the ace of the Pittsburgh mound staff, has been the chief cause of the Pirates' poor start this season. Still suffering from an injury to his foot last year, he has won only one game in five starts.

Yesterday Kremer was beaten by the New York Giants 5 to 4 Fitzsimmons and Hogan, the New York battery, drove in four runs between them.

The Pirates dropped clear down to fifth place. The Giants increased hold on first place as Cincinnati lost to Boston 7 to 6 in ten innings.

Scoring three runs in the eighth, St. Louis nosed out the Phillies 5 to 4 and jumped to third place. The Cards have copped four straight and the Phils haven't yet won a game in the west.

Ruth Hits Homer.

Babe Ruth's seventh homer of the season, with two runners on the sacks, staked the Yankees to a 4 to 2 win over Cleveland. Pipgras and Hudlin did the throwing. Pipgras and with five victories and no defeats is now leading the pitchers in both leagues.

Bob Fothergill's bat won another game for Detroit. Robust Robert's double in the tenth, his third hit of the game, gave the Tigers a 6 to 5 verdict over Washington.

One of these days the Senators are going to win a ball game and then there will be a real scandal at the capital.

Walloping three St. Louis pitchers for 19 hits, the Athletics chalked up their fifth straight victory, 11 to 1. Joe Hauser hit his sixth homer and Mickey Cochrane collected four singles, while the St. Louis batters got nothing but exercise in swinging at Jack Quinn's spitters.

The Red Sox folded up under the curves of Ted Blankenship of the White Sox and slid back into the old homestead, the American league cellar. Score—Chicago 9, Boston 2. Bill Regan, Boston second baseman, made his first error of the current campaign.

Chicago had lost seven straight.

Bill Tilden the tennis star, is one of the strongest believers in rigid training rules in the forward ranks of sport.

Youth Suicides, Jumps Into River From High Bridge

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., May 21.—The body of Donald Gilligan, 18, who left a girl friend in his automobile and leaped into the Susquehanna river from the Market street bridge early this morning, was recovered by police shortly before noon today.

The body was found within 50 feet of the spot where he disappeared after his spectacular leap.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

By NORMAN E. BROWN
Staff Writer for Central Press and New Castle News

The baseball season is still young, but ol' Dad Time has already begun to take his toll in the ranks.

"The passing of Wallie Gerber, who was traded to the Red Sox by the Browns—" one short item reads.

The move did not send Gerber out of the big time, but it did signify that the veteran infielder has reached the point where at least one group of baseball leaders feel he has no place on a young and rising team. Twelve consecutive years as a major league infielder have taken their toll.

"Ping Bodie, veteran outfielder, was released late last week by the San Francisco Seals," reads another item.

Bodie faded from the majors several years ago, after a colorful career. He remained in the top minors for a long time, thanks to the potency of his hitting. But this recent news means that he is headed one step farther along the trail to retirement.

"Pat Shea, veteran pitcher and former Giant, released by Pittsfield." The reason is given: couldn't get his arm in shape quick enough. Pittsfield is being managed by Shano Collins, himself a veteran of the majors, who found the pace too fast at last and graduated into the minor league managerial game.

"Baby Doll" Jacobson, once a member of the St. Louis Browns' slugging outfield trio, was given his unconditional release by Indianapolis a few days ago. Still good, perhaps, but no longer to be considered in molding a team for future wars, even in the A. A. minors.

At about the same time Pug Cavet, once a southpaw pitcher with the Tigers, was released as coach of the Indianapolis team.

Roy Elsh, while a member of the White Sox, did not set the world on fire as an outfielder, but filled the bill for the Sox, and his passing as a member of the Little Rock team of the Southern Association is noted with interest. Reason? To make room for Harley Boss, a rookie first baseman.

From Chattanooga, Tenn., recently came the item that Tom Connolly, infielder of parts and once a major leaguer, has been unconditionally released by the Southern club there.

And speaking of old timers. Those who followed the destinies of the miracle Braves' team of 1914 will probably be interested in the news, given out recently, that "Lefty" Tyler, one of the famous trio of pitchers that hurled Boss Stallings' team to a National league and world's pennant that year, is umpiring in the New England league.

Home Run Race Tightening Up

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 1.—The home run derby is a three-cornered affair this year, the standing today being Ruth 7, Joe Hauser 6 and Del Bissonette 6. Buster Gehrig, Ruth's closest rival last season, has only three.

Ruth and Hauser delivered yesterday. Ruth's homer was a prodigious wallop and was hit into the left field stands of the Yankee stadium. It was the first time the King of Swat had driven a ball into that territory since 1923.

The Bambino is two games ahead of his 1927 record.

HELEN JACOBS

The women's tennis champion of the United States is the goal of Miss Helen Jacobs, California's No. 1 ranking player.

Close followers of Miss Jacobs' game are of the opinion that her ambitions are not too lofty, either. She has the ruggedness, speed and the strokes that go to make a champion, and is improving rapidly.

Though Helen Wills, the present champion, is still in a class by herself, she cannot go on forever, and Miss Jacobs is the girl who may succeed her.

Both Helens come from Berkely, Cal.

Before marriage she is interested in his income; afterward in his incomings.

Hoover Reveals Senators Acting As "Go-Betweens"

Senators Moses And Sackett Named As Men Implicated In Goff's Approach

HOOVER TREASURER OFFERS TESTIMONY

Senator Goff Of West Virginia Claims Hoover Asked Him To Stay Out Of Race

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 11.—Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover today revealed that Senators George H. Moses (R) of New Hampshire, and Frederick M. Sackett (R) of Kentucky, where the hitherto unnamed "go-betweens" in his efforts to reach an agreement with Senator Guy P. Goff on the disposition of the West Virginia delegation to the Republican convention.

Goff charged Hoover sent him an offer through an unnamed senator to stay out of the West Virginia primary if Goff would make him (Hoover) the state's second choice. Goff rejected the offer and termed it an "attempt at moral bribery."

Hoover, when he testified earlier in the week, declined to name the senator who had spoken to Goff in his behalf.

Today he named Moses and Sackett as the "go-betweens" in a letter to the committee.

Letter Made Public.

The letter follows:

"My Dear Senator:

"In respect to inquiries by Senator Bratton, I have received approval of Senators Moses and Sackett to state that they held discussions both with Senator Goff and myself.

"Faithfully Yours,

"HERBERT HOOVER".

Philip P. Campbell, president of the "Curtiss for President" Club, the first witness today told of the activities of his organization, saying it was writing letters to the delegates to the convention.

James W. Good, treasurer of the Hoover headquarters here, testified that the cabinet officers organization had raised $49,150 and spent $42,032.16. He revealed that Edsel Ford, son of the auto king had contributed $5,000 to Hoover's campaign.

Good first read a long campaign statement into the record when asked to explain the activities of his organization. It was so laudatory of Hoover that Senator McMaster (R) of South Dakota, objected to it.

The committee finally decided to let Good conclude his statement.

The list of contributions to the Hoover headquarters fund was headed by Edsel Ford with $5,000. Others included Julius Rosenwald, of Chicago, $3,500, and Sen. Walter E. Edge, of New Jersey, $1,000.

Roaming Round With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

Let the song writers bleat of the glories of the early morn all they care to. Let the health faddists rave about the rejuvenating qualities of the early morning breeze, but personally I'm inclined to believe that there is considerably hooey connected with it.

Five thirty in the morning is no time to be on the street unless you went to bed the night before with the chickens, and I never did care much about sleeping with chickens. But this thing of working on a newspaper is just as likely to tear you from your bed before the sun is up as anything else, and this morning was one of that kind.

The Senior high school band left for Harrisburg this morning and shortly after five thirty I have to be down at the public square. Of course there are others there, some fifteen cars to be exact, but the thing that gets me is that couple of hours sleep I tossed away getting up before it was daylight, nearly.

Strike up the timbrel and the lute in praise of your early morning walks if you wish, but strike them up in the next block from where I live. Five o'clock is a good time to be asleep, in the A. M. at least.

The youngsters had a big time preparing to get away. For some of them it was the first time they had ever started on as long a trip as this, and for a lot of them it will be the first time to see the State Capital.

The caravan got under way at 6:20 o'clock, a little late, but at that one youngster nearly missed connections. He came tearing up Washington street just in time to make the last automobile as it was pulling up the street. The driver already had a load but he made room for the boy.

The state highway patrolman who headed the trip was to be relieved by a new one at Hollidaysburg, and this chap was to go on through to Harrisburg.

Harrisburg is going to see something when that band of New Castle Senior high school gets under way. The boys can play, and the winner will have to beat New Castle, providing there is any band that can do that.

The rain maker apparently was undecided as to what brand of weather he was going to dish out. A little rain and a gray sky, with now and then a hint of brighter weather to come. If the day is sunny that ride to Harrisburg will be a treat in itself, for there are few states in the country that can even compete with Pennsylvania in scenic beauty.

This colyum will be blank tomorrow, or rather it will be non-existent. But Monday there should be enough material for a real colyum.

PITTSBURGH, May 11.—Because of her alleged marital infidelity, police charged today, Paul Edems, 22, attempted to hurl his wife, Isabel, 22, into the Allegheny river here.

Patrolman Edward Voegler stopped Edems, who then struck the officer on the head with a brick. Voegler, using his mace, subdued Edems. Both were treated at a hospital. Edems is to be given a police court hearing.

Arguments Heard In Court Cases

Second Will Of Mrs. Violetta L. Osgood Probated; Administrator Is Asked

Arguments were heard before Judge Chambers in Lawrence county court today in the matter of the appointment of an administrator for the last will of the late Violetta L. Osgood.

Following the death of Mrs. Osgood a paper purporting to be her will was probated, and an administrator appointed. Afterwards another will bearing a later date was found. After a hearing the probation of the first will and the appointment of the administrator was revoked, and the second will was admitted to probate. Application for the appointment of an administrator was then made by Mrs. Henrietta R. Dickson, who is interested in the estate.

Arguments were heard before Judge Hildebrand today in the case of Stewart against Lindsay. This case grew out of a controversy over the building of some houses at Bessemer, for which Stewart furnished the money and Lindsay looked after the work. The suit was originally started to secure an accounting from Lindsay. The case has been in court for some time.

Arguments were heard by Judge Chambers in the case of Henley against Henley, the controversy being over some property in the vicinity of Hillsville.
